

U.N. Okays Talks On Disarmament

Five Powers U.S. Navy Equals All Will Confer Others Together; Janes In Secret

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U.N. Political Committee Wednesday unanimously approved a resolution calling for secret five-power talks on disarmament.

The vote came at the end of more than two weeks of general debate. The resolution was sponsored by the United States, Britain, France, Canada and the Soviet Union. It was the first time since 1946 that the West and Russia had agreed unanimously to sponsor a resolution.

The action means that the General Assembly certainly will approve the resolution and the Disarmament Commission will send to a sub-committee made up of these five powers all projects for disarmament now pending in the U.N. Amidst the obvious pleasure of the delegates that the Soviet Union and the West had taken this procedural step together, there were warnings that the East and West still are divided on fundamental points and there is no reason to expect rapid progress.

The committee then voted, 58-1, to send to the Disarmament Commission a proposal by India for a standstill agreement on the production of arms pending conclusion of a disarmament convention.

The one vote was by Nationalist China. This vote made it certain that the proposals of India's Prime Minister Nehru for a halt in the arms race would be considered by the commission's subcommittee. They were made last spring but the Indians charged they were put in a deep freeze and never considered.

Rescue Vessels Race To Answer Ship's S.O.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—A small Norwegian freighter, its bridge swept away by furious North Atlantic seas, radioed an S.O.S. for help Wednesday east of Newfoundland and three rescue vessels went racing to its aid.

The Coast Guard here identified the vessel as the 295-foot Germa, out of Kristiansand, Norway, and said it probably carried a crew of 20 to 30.

Only this terse message was received: "S.O.S. Position 47.53 north, 41.37 west. Bridge gone. Need help." The message was picked up here at 2:41 p.m. by the Coast Guard said. Nothing more was heard immediately.

U.S. WILL SWAP FARM SURPLUSES ABROAD FOR STRATEGIC GOODS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department reported Wednesday it expects to barter as much as 105 million dollars worth of government-owned farm surpluses for foreign-produced strategic materials during the next two months.

The barter transactions are being negotiated through private export concerns and will involve exchanges with friendly countries. Details of the transactions will not be available until later, officials said.

The department said it has disposed of 112 million dollars of farm surpluses in barter deals since Congress granted it authority to make such transactions five years ago.

The government has about six billion dollars invested in farm surpluses, including cotton, wheat, corn, other grains, tobacco and dairy products.

About 65 per cent of Mexico's 29 million people are farmers.

Marilyn Monroe Gets Divorce From Joe DiMaggio

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Marilyn Monroe, the movies' hottest property, Wednesday divorced Joe DiMaggio after testifying that she offered to give up her career to save her marriage.

But even that couldn't mend the nine-month marriage that was one of the most publicized since that of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip.

"I had hoped for love, warmth, affection and understanding," the shapely blonde testified between sobs.

"But all I got was coolness and indifference." The whole thing took only 15 minutes.

Dressed somberly but fetchingly in a black flannel suit, Marilyn told her domestic story.

"My husband would get into moods and wouldn't talk to me for long periods—five to seven days for some times. Maybe longer—10 days. If I tried to approach him, he usually said: 'Leave me alone.'"

Then, she said, he accused her of nagging him if she tried to find out the cause of his aloofness.

Marilyn seemed well rehearsed in her testimony. Other than an occasional tear that blotted her make-up, she went through it without a hitch. She had much more difficulty memorizing movie scripts.

The famed ex-New York Yankee slugger did not contest the divorce, didn't even bother to hire a lawyer. There are no children and each is self-supporting.

Soviet Charges Diplomat's Wife Hits Russ Worker

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government Wednesday night accused the wife of a U.S. diplomat of hitting a Soviet worker in the face and "brutally" pushing a Russian woman. The foreign ministry has demanded that the diplomat's wife leave Russia.

The Russian version of the incident, which occurred Monday, was substantially different from that given by the State Department in Washington. The department said Soviet secret police had illegally detained two U.S. embassy wives and subjected them to "personal indignities."

They are Mrs. Karl E. Sommerlatte, 32, wife of the second secretary of the U.S. embassy, and Mrs. Houston Stiff, wife of a Marine lieutenant colonel who is assistant naval attaché here.

U. S. Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen strongly protested to the foreign office the treatment he said the two women had received and refused to accept a Soviet note accusing Mrs. Sommerlatte of "hooliganism."

Bohlen will call on Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov Thursday to discuss the case.

MISTRIAL FOR CIUCCI

CHICAGO (AP)—The third murder trial of Vincent Ciucci ended abruptly in a mistrial Wednesday.

Judge B. Fain Tucker, only woman judge on the Criminal Court bench, ruled that testimony given by an assistant state's attorney was "prejudicial and one-sided."

Judge Tucker referred the case to Chief Justice Richard B. Austin of the Criminal Court. He re-assigned it to Judge Arthur P. Murphy who fixed Jan. 3 as the trial date.

Ciucci already has been convicted of murdering his wife and one daughter so that he could marry another woman. The trial just ended was on a charge of murdering his 9-year-old son, Vincent Jr. Still pending is an indictment accusing him of murdering another daughter.

Russia was rated superior to the United States only in numbers of submarines. Jane's estimated the Red underwater fleet totals between 370 and 400 vessels, as against the U. S. Navy's 200.

A large number of long-range Russian submarines "are now known to have been completed and commissioned for service recently," Jane's said.

These are of two types. One has a displacement of 2,900 tons, a speed of 20 knots and a range of 20,000 miles. The other has 1,600 tons displacement, a speed of 17 knots and a range of 13,000 miles.

The larger class has been seen in considerable numbers in the Baltic and the Far East, Jane's said. It estimated they are being built at the rate of 18 to 20 a year.

The 1,600-ton subs spotted in the Far East were reported being constructed in shipyards throughout the Soviet Union.

Russia also is "now capable of a considerable mine-laying effort," Jane's said.

A comparison in numbers of major warcraft in the American and Russian fleets, based on Jane's, showed:

The United States has 101 fleet and escort aircraft carriers against none for Russia; 15 battleships against Russia's 3; 75 cruisers against Russia's 26; six more under construction—and 737 destroyers and destroyer escort types against Russia's 138.

Adenauer Arrives In U. S. For Talks With Dulles, Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer arrived in Washington Wednesday for three days of talks designed to cement Germany into the free world alliance.

Greeted by Secretary of State Dulles as "one of the truly great men of our times," Adenauer responded with a message of thanks to this country and the declaration that "The whole German people are united in the desire to live in continual, cordial friendship with the American people."

His visit came only four days after a Paris conference reached agreement on means of adding German armed strength to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization forces and accepting the one-time enemy country into the treaty group formed to preserve peace in Europe.

Adenauer's discussions with Dulles and President Eisenhower during the next few days are expected to deal extensively with the need for ratification of the Paris agreements, especially by France and Germany, and with means of offsetting any Russian efforts to block Germany's rearmament as a Western ally.

Sheppard's two brothers and their attractive wives for the first time Wednesday were prevented from conferring with the defendant inside the courtroom during recesses.

Panel Of Jurors For Sheppard Trial Still Incomplete

CLEVELAND (AP)—The state twice approved a full panel of jurors Wednesday at the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, but the defense still was not satisfied.

Meanwhile the illness of one seated juror further slowed proceedings and court recessed for the night with a full jury near, but still not agreed upon.

The ailing juror was Thomas J. Solli, foreman of a railroad track gang. Repeated, severe bronchial coughing spells led him to ask Common Pleas Judge Edward Blithin to excuse him. The judge consented.

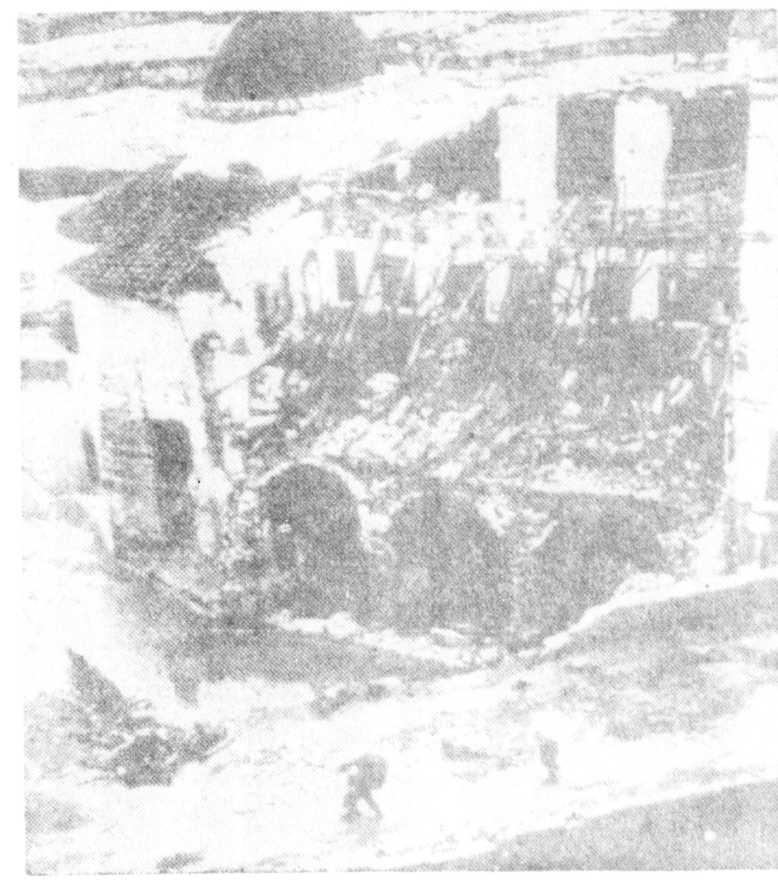

The defense used three of its peremptory challenges during the day, and wound up with only one remaining.

Twice the state said it was satisfied with the panel as it stood.

The last juror dismissed was Fred J. Brown, a Negro postal clerk. He hardly had time to get settled in the jury box. He had been selected as a replacement for 26-year-old Dorothy E. Lee, who was dismissed by the defense.

William C. Lamb, a handsome construction superintendent with a fullback's build, was seated in Solli's place and the defense then dismissed Brown with a peremptory challenge—that is, without giving any reason.

The day ended with this one juror seat vacant, and with the defense still holding in reserve its final challenge. Defense lawyers during the next few days are expected to say whether they will need to deal extensively with the need for ratification of the Paris agreements, especially by France and Germany, and with means of offsetting any Russian efforts to block Germany's rearmament as a Western ally.

TWO HUNDRED DIE IN FLOODS—Flash floods and landslides created by a great cloudburst roared down the mountain slopes at Salerno, Italy, killing more than 200 persons and leaving hundreds missing or injured. Here, refugees with their belongings walk past wrecked church following the disaster.

Salerno Digs For Dead After Ravaging Floods

SALERNO, Italy (AP)—Mud-caked workers struggled wearily in darkness Wednesday night in an effort to restore normal life to the Salerno area, devastated by Italy's worst flood disaster. Officials said the final death toll may reach 300.

Soldiers and firemen exhausted by nearly 48 hours of continuous labor dug through the ruins of homes, seeking bodies of the missing.

Coast guard boats fished some bodies out of Salerno Gulf, adding to the steadily mounting death toll taken by the flash floods and landslides that struck without warning late Monday night and early Tuesday.

Officials said 281 persons were killed in the disaster and 190 others still were missing.

Hundreds were injured and about 5,000 left homeless along the shoreline from Salerno to Amalfi, a 10-mile stretch of famed vacationland. Property damage was estimated in the millions.

In Salerno, where American troops stormed ashore 11 years ago, bulldozers and other heavy machinery assaulted the sea of mud the floods washed into the city of 70,000.

They opened most streets in the higher parts of the city, but along the shore front tons of mud and debris still choked streets—some to a depth of six feet.

The weather came to the assistance of rescue workers and repairmen late this afternoon. The wind, which had made help difficult by sea, suddenly died, and a hot sun came out.

Coast guard and fishing boats and several Italian naval vessels took advantage of the sudden change in the weather to shuttle food, clothing medicines and water to communities still cut off by road.

Helicopters also joined the rescue operations, carrying in emergency supplies and flying out with the seriously injured.

Meanwhile, Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen promised the United States would help the population.

Before boarding a plane in Rome for Madrid, Stassen said he had directed the FOA section in Rome to "extend all possible help" to the homeless and needy.

CHURCH BODY ELECTS ILLINOISANS

MIAMI FLA. (AP)—The United Christian Missionary Society, meeting with its parent body, the Disciples of Christ, Wednesday elected 40 new members of its 120-man board of managers.

New members included Harold E. Fay, Chicago, and D.O. Legg, Peoria, Ill.

Reindict Provo For Treason While Jap Prisoner

BAITMORE (AP)—A federal grand jury Wednesday reindicted John David Provo, a former San Francisco bank clerk, for treason charging that he went over to the Japanese while a prisoner of war in World War II.

Provo, a one-time Army staff sergeant, was convicted of a similar charge after a four-month trial in New York in February 1953 and sentenced to life imprisonment. A federal appeals court upset the conviction.

The U.S. District Court of Appeals in New York ruled last August that Provo should have been tried in Maryland, where he was held as an Army prisoner at Ft. Meade at the time of his original indictment, rather than in New York.

Meet Of Big Four Ruled Out By Ike

President Plans Trip To Aid GOP Campaign

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday night decided to make an eleventh-hour flying campaign foray aimed at stirring voters out of what he called apathy and winning a Republican victory in next Tuesday's contest for control of Congress.

The White House announced that he would fly on Friday to Cleveland, Detroit, Louisville, Ky. and Wilmington, Del., addressing airport crowds at each of the cities. He will leave here early Friday night.

The cities will be visited in the order named, but the exact time of the President's arrival will not be announced until Thursday. However, Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) said at Detroit that the President would reach there about noon.

Each of the four states the President will visit has a Senate race that could hold the key to control of the next Senate. Two of them, Ohio and Michigan, also elect governors. A total of 50 House seats are at stake in the four states.

In Ohio Rep. George H. Bender (R) is in a hot battle with Sen. Thomas A. Burke (D) for the remainder of the late Sen. Robert A. Taft's term. In Michigan's Senate contest Sen. Ferguson, Republican Policy Committee chairman in the Senate, is being pushed by Democrat Patrick V. McNamara.

Kentucky features a battle of talwarts with most observers giving former Vice President Alben W. Barkley (D) the edge to beat Sen. John Sherman Cooper (R). In little Delaware, Sen. J. Allen Frear (D) is challenged by Rep. Herbert B. Warburton (R).

At his news conference Wednesday Eisenhower expressed himself as somewhat puzzled over what he called voter apathy. With a flash of anger, he rejected any idea that "disenchantment" with his administration is responsible. On the contrary, he said, his advisers tell him one cause is too much satisfaction—the people have got what they wanted under the GOP.

Eisenhower spoke up on politics and a number of other topics at his first news conference here since mid-August.

He smilingly declined to predict the election's outcome, but said he certainly can hope for a Congress that will help him carry out his program in the next few years.

When the playback ended, Lohman angrily declared that a "monstrous fraud" was inserted in this transcription. He asserted that material had been added and omitted "to create a fallacious impression."

Then Gov. Stratton told the assembled newsmen: "That speech has not been garbled. You heard it in his own words. No sentences were lifted out of context. It has not been doctored up."

"I stick to the record. It's up to the people of the county to judge."

When the playback ended, the governor invited Lohman to make a statement if he wished.

Lohman rose and said "a monstrous fraud was inserted in this transcription."

"Much of that is my voice," he said. "Some is not mine."

Lohman charged that some material had been added and some "important" material has been omitted to create a fallacious impression.

He said he made two talks on different days on the same subject. He contended the parts he objected to "have been tampered with."

Lohman said the section dealing with policemen had been "distorted and fabricated."

"I cannot tell you how the governor contrived to put words on tape," he said.

Lohman stalked out of the room, and the newsmen directed a series of questions at Gov. Stratton.

Asked if he could "vouch" for the recording, Stratton said: "You heard his own voice."

Crowds Embrace Nasser As Hero

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Vengeful crowds Wednesday put the torch to headquarters of the fanatic Muslim Brotherhood enemies of Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser. Two hours later they embraced the Premier as a hero on his return from Alexandria, where he escaped an assassin's gunfire.

An official announcement said Mahmoud Abdel Latif, 32-year-old Cairo tinsmith who fired eight shots while Nasser was speaking last night in the port city, is a Brotherhood member. He was flown to Cairo this morning for interrogation.

The announcement said 60 more Brotherhood members, including four of its supreme councilmen, were arrested Wednesday in Cairo and Alexandria. Interior Ministry sources said later 300 members of the Brotherhood had been taken into custody.

An official source in Alexandria told newsmen Latif, who first said he had fired the shots as an expression of joy, had confessed he was sent to Alexandria to shoot Nasser. The Muslim Brotherhood has been criticizing the Premier bitterly for signing the British-Egyptian treaty for the evacuation of 83,000 British troops from the Suez Canal zone.

Time Not Suitable For Talks

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Wednesday said there is better reason to hope for peace now than there was two years ago, but he ruled out any immediate Big Four meeting to seek agreement with the Russians on great world issues.

The fact is, the President told a news conference, that this is not the time to project or hold a meeting with the Soviets while work is still in progress on completing the European defense structure by adding West German units.

But he said the West is strengthening its bargaining position, and indicated that he sees the possibility of an end—sometime—to the long road of the East-West conflict.

As for talking with the Communists, he said, whenever the time is appropriate and there is reason to believe they are sincere, this country will talk any time with anyone who wants sincerely to promote peace.

In a news conference devoted mostly to politics, foreign problems kept popping up in questions and, aside from laying down his general and hopeful attitude on the present state of world affairs, Eisenhower said:

Despondent Man Blows Self To Pieces With Bomb

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP)—An elderly man despondent since a dynamite blast injury in 1950 detonated a dynamite bomb in his hands Wednesday and blew himself to pieces on the second floor of the Hidalgo County Courthouse here.

The explosion wrecked the second floor of the courthouse, tore marble slabs off the walls, broke windows on two floors and shook downtown Edinburg. The five-story courthouse costing 1½ million dollars was dedicated only last summer.

Several hundred persons were in the building at the time of the explosion at 10:04 a.m. Two women suffered severe shock. Minor cuts and bruises were reported to other persons.

The man was Harry Miller, about 60, of Realito, Tex. He was an oilfield worker who was in court Wednesday for a decision on his suit for damages from injuries received in a dynamite explosion in September 1950.

Miller had taken an elevator to the second floor of the courthouse, gone for a moment into the 92nd District courtroom and then walked into the hall where he stood before a mirror beside the elevator and detonated the blast.

Editorial Comment

FOR U. S. SENATOR

The choice for U. S. Senator is not an easy one. Paul H. Douglas, the present incumbent, has done some notable work in the Congress. He has the training and the capabilities for the job. Yet he has shown a tendency, especially in recent years, toward the demagoguery he so deplores in others.

Webster defines a demagogue as a speaker who seeks to make capital of social discontent and gain political influence. This, we believe, is exactly what Paul Douglas has been doing in the present campaign. We believe that he has been wooing the farm vote and the labor vote with arguments his own prior statements refute. He has been seeking to exploit areas of unrest and has earned the title "Prophet of Gloom."

Few economists believe that high inflexible farm price supports should be continued, but Douglas, though skilled in this field, professes to believe in them. In his stand on the vital farm issue we are convinced that Douglas is wrong, that he knows he is wrong, and that he is not only doing a disservice to the farmers but to the country as a whole.

Douglas has also been lambasting the Eisenhower administration for not solving the unemployment problem. Yet the fact remains that when Truman was in office, and there were many more unemployed, Douglas was not perturbed. Then he stated we could stand a level of unemployment up to 10% of our labor force. Now he feigns great alarm at a level of 4%.

Douglas claims to be a supporter of Eisenhower, and in some instances he has voted in favor of administration measures. But he is essentially a big government advocate quite unlike Eisenhower, who wants to curtail the federal bureaus and decentralize Washington controls. The voter who believes in the old "New Deal" concept of government, call it socialistic or not, will be for Douglas. Those who believe in what Ike has been trying to do will not.

Douglas's opponent is a contrast in temperament and in thinking. While Douglas is emotionally high strung, apt to crack under the intensity of political pressures such as those which prevailed at the last Democratic convention, Joseph T. Meek is methodical and easy-going in a conservative sort of way. The probabilities are that Meek, if elected, will never achieve the notoriety which Douglas did in his first term. But Joseph T. Meek is, in our opinion, the more reliable of the two candidates when the chips are down and the going is tough.

Joseph T. Meek, though not our preference in the wide open G. O. P. primary because of differences with some of the Eisenhower policies, is nonetheless far more closely allied to the program of the Republican administration than Paul Douglas.

Every voter who thinks Ike has been making a good record as President and who wishes to support him should vote for Joseph T. Meek. We believe that Ike needs, and merits, the backing of a G. O. P. Congress.

HALLOWEEN

Halloween, that time of the year when great weird goblins walk, hoot owls screech their eerie tales of warning, skinny faced spooks with huge, green eyes and fiery tongues leer over fencepost and hedge, rapidly draws near. The sinister period of the year that delights the heart of everyone, man woman and child.

As rusty-hued October bids adieu to the greetings of November, the world gives way to the witches' gambol. It is the one time of the year conceded by all to fairy-talk. None can gainsay their power, and the universe breaks forth under the magic spell of the impenetrable.

For a week or more the markets have been flooded with great, golden pumpkins, fresh from the vine, tinted with autumn's first chill and perfectly shaped for the goblin's head. The eyes of the youngsters have gleamed with delight as they watched them come upon the market, reveling in the joy of anticipation over the fun to be had upon the big night.

Rosy-cheeked apples, round and perfect for "bobbing," corn ready for anything, and other articles for the occasion are to be seen everywhere. Shop windows have been laden for weeks with immense black cats, their backs humped, their green eyes staring. Long-haired witches, their noses pointed, peak hats atop their heads, galloping madly astride old-fashioned brooms, freak faces, goblin shapes, are to be seen on every hand.

In the schools youngsters have been cutting grotesque figures, drawing witches and goblins upon the blackboards, fairly frantic with the desire for the witching hour to arrive.

The World Today

By ED CREAGH

(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mr. Germany comes to town today.

Konrad Adenauer, chancellor of the Federal Republic of Germany, might reject that title. And a great many of his fellow Germans might have imagined. The idea of wrapping up a whole nation, or even half a nation, in the person of one man seems to have perished there with Adolf Hitler.

Still, Adenauer is a symbol of the new Germany to most other

Western countries. Since the death of Konrad Adenauer, and Kurt Schumacher, he is about the only West-

German political figure whose name is widely known in the United States.

He occupies a dominant position in the eyes of Western political leaders who deal with Germany.

He is a respected position. Secretary of State Dulles went out of his way, in addressing Monday night's televised Cabinet meeting, to praise Adenauer as a "great statesman."

Many of these political figures

can't figure out who the Germans have to fill Adenauer's shoes when inevitably the time comes for someone else to become chancellor.

Adenauer will be 79 next January. Only Winston Churchill, among the West's political leaders, is older. Churchill will be 80 Nov.

30.

In a real sense Adenauer can be called the "father" of the new West

Germany. He directed the drawing up of the basic law which set up the Bonn Republic. Actually this law is a constitution but Adenauer prefers not to use that word until such time as it can apply to a united Germany.

So Adenauer comes to Washington today as a bigger man than he was on his last visit.

That was in April 1953. Soviet

Premier Stalin died not long

"In advance, I must not reject everything," he said in a speech to the National Press Club. "But we must also avoid promoting any attempt to destroy the unity of the West and its unified front with regard to Soviet Russia."

Three Good Reasons for a Wedding

DR. JORDAN SAYS

Most Competitive Athletics Are Not Injurious to Heart

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.
Written for NEA Service

Do competitive athletics of various sorts have any effect on the outlook for a long life? Such studies as have been made on the subject suggest that on the average there is little difference in expectation of life between athletes and non-athletes.

One study from England on this subject reported that nearly 100 of each thousand sportsmen died from accidents or injuries as compared with only about 47 per thousand "intellectuals." The same article reported a suicide rate nearly five times as high for intellectuals as for those who had not distinguished themselves in this way.

The Other Major debate over the part played by competitive athletics relates to its possible effects on the heart and blood vessels. One would not expect competitive sports like baseball, football or field games to cause any damage to the heart of those who are in good health because there is no long lasting continuous muscular effort.

The question of damage to the heart is more likely in such events as middle-distance track, crew racing, and basketball, in which the muscles are in constant motion for long periods of time, thus throwing a heavy load on the heart.

To this there is an encouraging answer. There appears to be no increasing support to the view that exercise, even strenuous, produces not only no ill effects on a normal heart, but that it actually produces a heart that is already weakened and close medical supervision of those engaged in competitive athletics is therefore advisable.

One can conclude that exercise is not as important a cause of heart disease as infectious and that the old term "athlete's heart" should be dropped because there probably is no such thing.

At the Present time, from a practical standpoint, parents of teenage boys engaged in the more strenuous competitive sports should not fear any particular heart injury proving the youngsters are healthy that they do not engage in sports while sick or weakened in any way, and that the medical supervision is satisfactory. Boys should be kept from strenuous sports when under par and must not be forced to compete in games beyond the limits of their strength at the time.

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"I have a morbid interest in money," confessed George Axelrod, a young man who wrote in 60 hours a Broadway play he says will earn him a million dollars.

For the actual time he spent at the typewriter in turning out "The Seven Year Itch," now being filmed as a vehicle for Marilyn Monroe, this comes to $16,666.66 an hour.

Axelrod, who is 32, wears a crew cut, and looks like a Princeton freshman, thinks this is a fair rate of pay for a writer—if he got to keep the money.

But, of course, he doesn't. Today it may take more time to figure out the income tax on a hit play than it does to write it.

"You work for years and starve," said George wryly, "and then when you hit the big loot they take it all away."

"Money is no longer enough. A writer needs some new kind of payment that can't be taken away—such as a guarantee your golf score will improve. Or they might promise to add two years to your life or—in my case—agree to find a way to make my front teeth come together."

But until something better does come along Axelrod has decided money is about the best all-around substitute.

"Writing doesn't count unless you get paid for it," he said. "I can't even write a letter to my son now unless he promises to send me a buck for it."

"Art is a byproduct of writing for money. Shakespeare wrote because he needed dough. You always write better when you're hungry."

At 18, "after being thrown out of most of the good schools in the East," George became a bit actor on Broadway, confined to lines such as "Madam, dinner is served."

"I was a horrible actor, but I wanted to learn stage techniques," he said. "I knew that at 18 I couldn't write anything that people would pay $4.40 to see."

At 20 George watched the rehearsal of a radio show, then went home and turned out a script for one himself and sold it for $130.

"Since then I've turned out between 500 and 600 radio and TV shows," he said, "written two novels, and turned out gags and comedy sketches for Martin and Lewis," Peter Lind Hayes, Robert Q. Lewis, and many other big comedians.

Today George gets $75,000 for a movie script, double that amount if he furnishes the plot, too. He is currently polishing up a new musical, "The Rodgers and Hart Songbook," and hopes to write "five of six of the greatest plays in the history of the world," then become a producer.

The stars move, but they are so far away that it takes many years before these motions are easily apparent.

When a person doesn't like the way the country is going, he can either get out and vote or get out.

Jane Brubaker, Former Carrollton Teacher, Married

CARROLLTON—Miss Jane Brubaker of Wagoner, a former teacher in the Carrollton Community Unit High School, became the bride of Robert Fairchild of Rochester in a ceremony performed at 4 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 24, in the Christian church in Wagoner.

The soloist for the service was Miss Lois Korty, one of the music teachers in the Carrollton Community Unit High School. Miss DeLores Parrott of Galesburg, formerly Greene county home adviser, was the bridesmaid and Mrs. Robert Ritterbusch, sister of the groom, was the matron of honor.

Both Miss Parrott and Mrs. Ritterbusch wore dresses of an aqua shade identical in styling and carried bouquets of yellow mums. The bride's gown was white and her bridal bouquet was white mums. The best man was Charles Fairchild and the groomsmen were Robert Ritterbusch, John Brubaker, brother of the bride was one of the ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room of the church after which Mr. and Mrs. Fairchild left on a wedding trip to the southern states. Upon their return they will make their home on a farm near Rochester.

Mrs. Fairchild who taught home economics in the local high school during the 1933-34 school term is a graduate of the University of Illinois. Upon the completion of her work here in the spring Mrs. Fairchild accepted a position as assistant home adviser in Macoupin county which position she resigned prior to her wedding.

Attending the wedding from this city were Miss Lois Korty, Miss Val Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hamman and children and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sheets. Miss Elizabeth of Greenfield also attended the wedding.

AT YOUR SERVICE—This new farm system, thought up by Johnnie, 5; Joe, 3; and Veronica Spiga, 19 months, would probably send Agriculture Department experts walking away scratching their heads. An "Eggs Laid While You Wait" sign plus two live hens and a basket of eggs stopped traffic at their dad's roadside market near Morristown, Ohio. They sold out in a short time.

Interpreting The News

By J. M. ROBERTS Jr.

Every now and then old Winston Churchill, said to have been slipping in the last few years, gives us a flashback to the presence which made him famous.

For a long time now the octogenarian Prime Minister of Britain has displayed what amounts almost to obsession with the idea that he could go down in history as a great peacemaker as well as a great warmaker if he could just get together with Malenkov.

The British kicked him out of office after he had won a terrible war and almost personally brought the nation back from the brink of disaster. They did it largely because they didn't think he was the man to handle the problems of peace. Now he wants to show 'em.

"How To Educate A Woman" Told By College Head

American women own three-fourths of the national wealth and spend 85% of all consumer dollars. Advertising is beamed predominantly to women. And one-third of these women are wage earners, fifty-five per cent of these earners being married.

With these facts and potent observations concerning the current divisions of labor between the sexes, Dr. Louis Norris, President of MacMurray College, writes on "How to Educate a Woman." His article appears in the October 30th issue of the Saturday Review.

Dr. Norris is not concerned over whether women are as smart as men; that, he affirms, has long ago been established. But he says that both men and women must accept the fact that in many areas they are engaged in different types of labor and interest, in spite of overlapping occupations; and therefore we should provide suitable education for each sex if we are to build a stronger American society.

"Not only have technological vocations multiplied geometrically since World War I," Dr. Norris says, "but large numbers of men have been, and will continue for some time to be, called into military service that requires technological preparation. A man's curriculum in college often must be loaded with technical subjects and his work day after college usually ties him down to specific problems of a scientific character. Either America must allow herself to become primarily a technological society, or the women must counterbalance this trend by accent on the liberal and fine arts."

The Saturday Review article asks that all recognize women's skill in analyzing, not how to manage nature, but what we do it for. Women, Dr. Norris insists, can not only "marshal the household chores, that will claim every hour in the day if allowed," but can make a place for culture if they will. Women nurture the arts, and their education should adequately help them in this. Woman is the educational continuity in the home. She supervises language habits, radio and television program choices, homework, diet, health—more than does the man. Many areas peculiar to her are affected by her standards. Public opinion is powerfully affected by her desires. Character education in the home, and church work, are strongly determined by women.

ATTENDS FIELD DAY

ARGENTINE PLANE CRASHES

MERCEDES, Argentina (AP)—An Argentine air force plane from the Villa Reynolds base in this central Argentine province crashed Tuesday and all 10 of its crewmen were reported killed.

FROM WASHINGTON

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver White and sons of Kennewick, Wash., and Rev. Norman McAdams of Aulville, Mo., were guests last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Gibson, 924 Doolin avenue.

But the old man, who before the war derided the efforts of other British statesmen, well knows the danger of negotiation from weakness.

So, when Russia proposed another conference in an effort to delay and prevent ratification of the new Western European Union, Churchill promptly came out of his obsession.

The proposal really is for a foreign ministers conference. But the opposition in Parliament deliberately asked him why "he" hadn't accepted when Russia invited, in accord with his longstanding position.

Because, he answered, it isn't smart to have such a conference while a Western European union is pending.

His statement, revealing government policy on the latest Russian note before all three Allies had a chance to coordinate their views, came as a surprise. Britons have criticized the United States for doing things like that.

But President Eisenhower was quick to follow in the same vein.

Both said that after the new treaties are ratified, and if there appears to be any possibility of steps toward peace with Russia, the matter of conferences, at levels either high or lower, can be taken up again.

Then, there is a general feeling, Russia might be brought to law on at least some issues. The Russians have fought bitterly both the cold war and real wars through puppets ever since 1946. But once a situation is established, no matter how disadvantageous to them, they have accepted it at least temporarily, until some time when they might be able to do more about it.

That was true about Greece, Iran, Korea, Trieste, the argument over the Turkish straits and territory, and their demand for a hand in the Mediterranean.

Ratification of the West European union would face them with new Allied strength, and again they will have to change their tactics to meet it.

Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia says his experience as a former member of the Red hierarchy makes him believe the Kremlin is shifting to a less intransigent line. If he is right, new strength, instead of new negotiations in a atmosphere of uncertainty, would be a major Allied weapon.

More Damage Discovered On River Bridge

BEARDSTOWN — Additional damage was discovered Tuesday on the Beardstown highway bridge, now being repaired after it was hit by a tow boat and put out of commission a week ago.

Ray Walls, local alderman, stated that the Peoria firm making the $40,000 repairs, discovered a cracked beam, which had not been noticed on the original survey of damage.

It was not stated immediately whether this additional damage will greatly extend the time needed to make the repairs. Originally the company indicated the job could be finished and the bridge reopened by Thanksgiving day.

A ferry is now being operated between the Cass and Schuyler county shores. It can handle eight cars at a time.

SEEK REASONS FOR TEENAGE VANDALISM

CHICAGO (AP)—What turns a teenager into a vandal? A Senate subcommittee opens hearings today in an attempt to find the answer to that question.

Staff investigators for the subcommittee, which is headed by Sen. Langer (R-ND), have been studying the Chicago area for weeks. They say juvenile vandalism destroys two million dollars worth of Chicago property annually.

Some 25 witnesses are expected to be called today.

The miracle of America is that, with 45 million cars on the road, more of them don't collide.

Farmer Hopes To Keep Sons On Farm By Making Electricity Do Hard Work

NEWVILLE, Pa. (AP) — How are you going to keep the kids on the farm?

Every once in a while that question hits some parent. How is he going to keep his sons, his own flesh and blood, working the land he loves and desperately hopes they will love after they grow up and see the attractions of the city?

John Starny, who runs a dairy farm, has felt the challenge in the age-old question and is determined to do something about it. He is trying to make life on his farm so attractive his four young sons will want to make agriculture their career.

"We'll be heartbroken if we can't build this place into something that our boys will want to take over before we're gone," says the 36-year-old Cumberland County farmer.

The weapon Starny has chosen to defend his way of life is electricity. With the help of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co. and the Farm Journal magazine he an electrically operated cleaning job to a machine. He hopes that by machine. Feed is ground automatically removing the necessity for mental, backbreaking human labor, his boys will look upon the glitter of the city with eyes less envious than those whose days are a succession of distasteful chores.

If Starny turned on every electrical device at his disposal he would tap enough current to light more than 2,000 regular 75-watt house light bulbs.

Every farm operation in the house or in the work buildings that could economically be done by electricity has been mechanized.

Rev. Janvrin Speaks To P.T.A. In Roodhouse

ROODHOUSE — Rev. H. I. Janvrin, pastor of the First Baptist church, spoke Monday night to the P. T. A. on the association's theme for the year, "Guidance of the Growing Child" as to the desired goals to be attained, who should be the guides, how the child should be guided, and he pointed out the fact that only through the cooperation of the three institutions, the home, church, and school, could proper guidance be brought about. In conclusion, he stated that public opinion and the influences of all things public also play a large role in the guidance of the growing child.

Rev. Janvrin was presented by the program chairman, Wayne Cunningham. The president, Jesse Jameson, opened the meeting. William Admire has been named vice president to succeed Mrs. Forrest Moulton who resigned. Mrs. Eben Hunt will head the membership committee for the year. Parent-teacher representation award was made to Mrs. Sullivan's 6th grade and Mrs. Barlow's morning kindergarten. The two rooms tied.

—NEA Telephoto
FRED BY REDS — The Communist radio reported that Hermann H. Field, above, a Cleveland, Ohio, architect, has been released from prison and cleared of the "baseless" charges on which he was arrested five years ago in Red Poland.

Electricity fills the silo and unloads it, while electric milking machines milk the cows and pump the milk through 600 feet of glass tubing into a 1,000-gallon refrigerated tank.

Starny's farm in central Pennsylvania near Carlisle was selected by PP&L and the Farm Journal as a typical example of agricultural enterprise. They wanted a place to demonstrate how electricity could be put to work to lighten the load of the farmer.

And the idea appealed to Starny, who was looking for anything that would help keep his sons enthusiastic about farming.

Between Starny and the two companies a plan was evolved. Starny would foot the bill for some of the electrical appliances and equipment, while PP&L would pay for the costs of some of the wiring in conjunction with the National Electrical Manufacturers Assn. and the National Electrical Contractors Assn.

Starny bought the farm 23 miles west of Harrisburg in 1936 with borrowed capital. That was the summer after he graduated from high school.

In 1940 he married his wife Mary, and they now have four sons — Jeffrey, 12; Joel and Jerry, 8-year-old twins; and Spencer, 5. The farm is paid off and a 132-cow purchased Ayrshire herd has been built up.

In the house, Mrs. Starny has more than 64 separate circuits, at her beck and call to run appliances ranging from air conditioners to electric blankets.

Abandon Plans For Taylor To Answer Red Aid Charge

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Plans were abandoned today for a Senate hearing which had been proposed to give former U. S. Sen. Glen Taylor an opportunity to answer, under oath, assertions that he accepted Communist support in his 1948 election campaign.

Sen. Welker (R-Idaho), who had ordered the hearing, announced Tuesday night that it would not be held. Asked to explain he would comment only that "Taylor has had nothing to say."

But in Wallace, Idaho, where he was campaigning, Taylor told reporters "I've been waiting to hear from him (Welker) about when the hearing was to be held."

Taylor, who was the Progressive Party nominee for vice president in 1948, is the Democratic Senatorial nominee for the seat now held by Republican Henry C. Dworshak. Welker has been campaigning in behalf of Dworshak.

Welker has quoted testimony he said was given at a Senate Internal Security Subcommittee hearing by former undercover FBI agent. He quoted the agent as saying Taylor knowingly accepted Communist support as the Progressive Party candidate in 1948.

Taylor then challenged Welker to subpoena him as a witness before the same group and Welker responded by asking a subcommittee investigator to make plans for an immediate hearing and invited Taylor to testify.

Subcommittee Counsel Jay Sourwine arrived in Boise Monday night but left Tuesday night. He said he had talked to Taylor and the latter told him he did not ask for and did not want a hearing. Sourwine said Taylor told him, however, that he would honor a subpoena and had challenged Welker to issue one to him.

Sourwine said Taylor told him he would appear voluntarily at a hearing only if he had the right to cross-examine Welker.

EASY MOVE

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Here's one way to "leave town."

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold J. Volkmer petitioned to have their residence, located at the edge of the village of Waverly, Neb., de-annexed from the village. They contended the property was an "isolated extension" of the city limits and that they were paying village taxes without deriving village benefits. The Waverly Board of Trustees and Lancaster District Judge Harry R. Ankeny approved.

Lutheran Women Of Area Convene At Mason City

The ninth annual Illinois Zone Rally of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League was held in Christ Lutheran church, Mason City, Ill., Wednesday, Oct. 20.

After an organ prelude by Mrs. Mary Joy Ewers, the Rev. R. N. Lawrenz, pastor of the Christ Lutheran church, conducted devotional services which included singing of "Holy, Holy, Holy" by the assembly, and prayer and scripture reading by the pastor.

Mrs. Katie Deiss, president of the Dorcas society, welcomed the guests. Mrs. O. W. Hackman, zone vice chairman, responded.

Mrs. Carlton Schumacher, zone chairman, opened the business session with well-chosen remarks. Mrs. J. A. Knoepfel, zone secretary, called the roll and found represented 193 members from 16 societies, nine pastors and 13 guests. Minutes of the preceding meeting followed with a report of the collection taken at that meeting. On motion, the minutes of the preceding meeting and the report were both approved as read.

Following the report of the nominating committee by Mrs. Irene Krusemark, chairman, the following officers were elected to serve the Illinois Valley Zone for the ensuing two years: chairman, Mrs. Carl Stansbury, San Jose; vice chairman, Mrs. Raymond Knollensberg, Topeka, and secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Otto Dierker, Manitowish.

Mrs. Edwin Semeika, district chairman, very interestingly and aptly suggested many ways in which one could live a useful and happy Christian life, summarizing by stating that "the way to multiply happiness is to divide it." She also reported district activities, read a letter of greetings from Pastor R. C. Rein and had the secretary read a similar letter from the Rev. Schallow, a member of the Board of Missions to Formosa.

Mrs. Robert Vollbracht, district treasurer, gave a report of the district's finances.

Mrs. P. H. Davidmeyer gave a most interesting and informative report of a retreat at Augustana Camp, Lake Geneva, Wis., which she attended last summer, together with the other local delegate, the Rev. Walter E. Bussard, and his family. The secretary read a letter from Mrs. B. L. Downing, mite box chairman, in which the latter wrote that she was sorry she could not attend the meeting and explained several features of mite boxes.

Mrs. Carlton Schumacher, retiring zone chairman, spoke words of encouragement to the newly elected zone officers.

After singing the theme song "Lutheran Women, One and All," the assembly repaired to the church basement. After prayer by Rev. R. H. Lawrenz, a fellowship dinner was served by the hostesses.

After organ selections by Mrs. Helen Hobbit, and vocal solos, "Take My Life and Let It Be," "Bless This House" and "Beautiful Saviour," by Mrs. Delores Abel, the afternoon session was opened by the assembly singing, "God Loved the World So That He Gave."

Mrs. Carlton Schumacher, zone chairman, introduced the guest speaker, the Rev. Leroy Hass, a missionary to Japan, who spoke very ably and instructively of the home life education and religion of the Japanese, mentioning that they are very artistic and love beauty.

The Ladies Aid of St. John's Topeka, Ill., extended an invitation for the 1935 Zone Rally, which was accepted.

The Dorcas Society of Christ Lutheran church, Mason City, hostesses, those on the program and all others who had helped make the meeting a success, were given a rising vote of thanks. A collection was taken to help defray the expenses of the district.

Pastor E. H. Beckemeyer, district counselor, asked that past projects be remembered with pride that would inspire even greater victories in the future, since time is short.

Pastor O. A. Borchelt, who is performing institutional work both in Jacksonville and Lincoln, Ill., explained his work and announced that donations of Christian literature and booklets would be appreciated.

Mrs. Earl Boucher asked for and received from the assembly, a rising vote of thanks to the retiring officers.

After the singing of "Stand Up, Stand Up for Jesus" by the assembly, the Rev. E. H. Beckemeyer installed the new officers, offered a prayer and pronounced the benediction.

The assembly closed with silent prayer.

Radio Station RIAS Loves Complaints Of Communists

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN

BERLIN (AP) — If there's a No. 1 spot on the Communist hate list in Germany, it's probably reserved for RIAS, the U.S.-controlled radio station here.

RIAS Radio in American Sector — is our major propaganda weapon in Soviet-occupied East Germany. Its broad mission is to get the news and views of the West across to 18 million East Germans and, as one RIAS official puts it, "keep them in the Western pattern of thinking."

"Every time the Russians protest about American spies and agents operating in East Germany," he says, "we get at least an honorable mention."

To prove it, he pointed to a portion of a late protest note from the Soviets.

"The American Radio station RIAS in West Berlin," complained Soviet High Commissioner Georgi M. Pushkin, "attempts to create its own network of agents on the territory of the German Democratic Republic and sends so-called correspondents to collect espionage material and organize acts of diversion and sabotage."

The U. S. High Commission fired Pushkin's note back to him 24 hours later with the terse notation that it was unacceptable, false and defamatory.

But at RIAS, station officials are delighted with Pushkin's blast.

To them, it means the station is reaching a sizable number of East Germans and the Communist bosses are unhappy about it.

Station officials estimate the Reds spend as much, and maybe more, money on "jamming" and anti-RIAS propaganda campaigns than the annual $2,750,000 congressional appropriation for RIAS.

The controlled East German press seldom lets a week go by without a broadside against the station. Anti-RIAS posters and pamphlets are issued from time to time proclaiming "RIAS spies poison." Any mass demonstration is likely to include a group carrying anti-RIAS posters.

RIAS broadcasts 24 hours a day over powerful transmitters on medium, long and shortwave bands. To pierce Communist jamming of programs, it uses a variety of wavelengths plus a 20-kilowatt mobile transmitter.

The station employs six Americans in administrative posts and 492 German technicians, actors, musicians, announcers and maintenance workers.

RIAS programs cover a wide range but emphasis is on political broadcasts. About 30 per cent of air time is devoted to such programs, including 19 newscasts daily. Political commentaries, involving the main RIAS propaganda effort, are built around the news but are aired separately from straight news.

About half the air time is devoted to musical programs, both jazz and symphonic.

Leading in overall popularity is a cabaret-style program poking fun at the Communist regime. The main characters are two party functionaries who talk over their troubles.

RIAS also presents a wide variety of cultural shows.

OFF-BEAT TERRAPIN

ORANGE, Va. (AP) — Theodore G. Scott, who has been a terrapin fancier for 40 years, says he is puzzled by a stray terrapin which has appeared at his place. Although terrapins are nocturnal feeders and a bit secretive about the whole matter, the new terrapin at Scott's comes in and eats from a bowl "just like a puppy."

Scott keeps a lot of terrapins and raises them for his grandchildren. They are seldom affectionate but Scott put an identifying mark on the stray and took it and others to a friend's home a mile away. Next, all were at the friend's home except the stray, who showed up at the Scott's for a morning handout of food.

TIME FOR BRIDGE

ST. IGNACE, Mich. (AP) — They are building a 100 million dollar bridge across the Straits of Mackinac. The idea is certainly not new as evidenced by a newspaper advertisement hanging in the Michigan State Highway Ferries Office at St. Ignace, Mich.

In the center of the advertisement for an old general store is an engraving of a proposed five-mile-long suspension bridge across the Straits of Mackinac.

The date—1884.

Boston, Mississippi Top Defensive Clubs

Football Briefs

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Although still slightly battered, Illinois' football team will go without a line-up shuffle for the first week since the season opened in Saturday's game at Purdue.

Halfback J. C. Caroline and quarterback Em Lindbeck had to skip scrimmages this week because of minor ailments, but are expected to open against the Boilermakers.

Caroline has a badly bruised shoulder, while Lindbeck has a strained leg muscle. Illini defenses have been pointed out by the passing of Purdue's Len Dawson, who has pitched 12 scoring tosses in five games.

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Injured fullback, Bob Lauter, and tackle, John Smith, returned to duty at Northwestern Wednesday but a sophomore halfback was lost for the season with a dislocated hip.

Ron Dunbar of Belvidere, Ill., had the hip injury and coach Bob Voigts said he will miss the rest of the season. Also still sidelined with bad knees were End Bob Morman and Center John Danore.

The Wildcats continued to polish up a passing attack in preparation for Saturday's contest with Ohio State.

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Purdue's footballers got a warning and a workout Wednesday. The warning, "just one defensive mistake" against a backfield such as Illinois' spells touchdown; the workout in the final hard scrimmage before Saturday's tilt.

Coach Stu Holcomb, who said "We can't afford to have any let-up against Illinois," stressed defense for Sophomore Passer Leonard Dawson in the bruising workout.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Unimpressed by the buildup sports writers have been giving his undefeated Ohio State Buckeyes, Coach Woody Hayes looked over the squad during workouts Wednesday and remarked: "Just fair, just fair."

The Buckeyes are in good physical shape with the exception of Left Guard Jim Parker, sidelined with an ankle injury received in the Wisconsin game.

Parker, a good man on defense against passes, may be missed badly at Saturday's game with Northwestern if the Wildcats take to the air. Hayes has been using Jerry Williams and Lalo Blazeff at left guard during this week's practice sessions.

Hayes described Blazeff as "a good contact man and pretty line-backer."

YANKS RELEASE ROSTER

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Yankees released their winter roster of 43 players Wednesday and listed six catchers, their best trading bait.

Twenty pitchers, 11 of them with the Yankees at the end of the 1954 season; 11 infielders and six outfielders and six outfielders complete the winter lineup.

READ THE CLASSIFIED ADS

FAN BREEZES

BY BILL MERRIS

After a highly successful week of hitting 11 out of 13 Topsy the Tipster came around yesterday with his chest sticking out to make his weekly predictions on the area grid battles. The first thing we heard out of the "old boy" was "I told you so" as he referred to last week's prognostications. He was talking about a couple of the local games he hit on the nose. Taxy that we weren't too sure about.

This week's activity begins tonight with two games on tap. In a PMBC Conference battle at Arzenville the Raiders play host to Mercedosa and Topsy says the host team should win by a close one touchdown margin. In the only other game tonight, he said Waverly will whip St. James by one.

Friday night will be the big night for local fan. The Crimson enterlain Westville under the lights while Routt travels to Chandlerville. Also on the 10-game card will be several of the Tip Illinois Valley foes and the PMBC Conference begins to wind up its program.

In the local game Topsy says the Crimson will whip the visiting Westville eleven by a pair. We can't say too much about this battle since Westville club is a stranger to us. They do play rough football up in that neck of the woods but the Tipster claims to know what he is talking about. Routt should have little trouble with Chandlerville. Coach "Pappy" Wainright's boys haven't won a game this year and the Rockies will be much too tough for them to break into the win column this week.

In Illinois Valley action he says Pittsfield will top Carrollton by a pair. Jerseyville over Roadhouse by two. Winchester to whip Greenfield by one and Pleasant Hill over White Hall by one. In other games, Topsy gives Virginia a one TD advantage over Bluffs, says Notre Dame should beat Beardtown by one, Mt. Sterling over Franklin by three and Northwestern over Paines by a pair.

The IC Blueboys and I. S. D. Tigers round out the local grid picture Saturday evening as these two schools play on their home fields. In the afternoon contest the Tigers play host to Wisconsin Deaf and Topsy says Coach Smith's boys should win by a couple of TDs. He wasn't so sure about the score as he was about the fact he at least knew where the game was to be played.

Saturday night's game between IC and Culver Station should be an even match but Topsy says the Blueboys will come out on top by a single touchdown. It will be interesting to see how a former Bluffs star and a player who almost went to IC done against the local high school. Max Edlin should see action for the visitors.

LOCKE AWARDED TROPHY

LONDON (AP)—Bobby Locke of South Africa has been awarded the British Vardon trophy for the lowest stroke average in six golf tournaments.

It was the third Vardon for Locke since 1946. His stroke average over 25 rounds was 71.

Williams, Musial Running One-Two In Lifetime Marks Among Active Players

By BEN OLAN

NEW YORK (AP)—Ted Williams of the Boston Red Sox and Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals, a couple of baseball's all-time great hitters, are running one-two in the lifetime batting averages among major league players active during the 1954 campaign.

Williams, who hit .345 this past season, kept his lifetime mark for 13 years at .348, the top figure among American leaguers.

Musial, also a 13-year veteran, leads the active National Leaguers with a .344 average. The Cardinals batted .339 in '54 and lost one point on his lifetime mark, statistics compiled by The Associated Press.

All told, 18 players have at each league finished the 1954 season with lifetime percentages of .300 or better.

The other American players in that select group are Dale Mitchell, Cleveland, .315; Billy Goodman, Boston, .310; George Kell and Minnie Minoso, Chicago, .309 each; Harvey Kuenn, Detroit, .308; Johnny Pesky, Washington, .307; Bobby Avila, Cleveland, .306; and Enos Slaughter, New York, .304.

National Leaguers with .300 or better lifetime marks covering at least two full seasons are Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn, .319; Richie Ashburn, Philadelphia, .312; Duke Snider, Brooklyn and Don Mueller, New York, .307 apiece; Smokey Burgess, Philadelphia, .305; Willie Mays, New York, .304; Ted Kluszewski, Cincinnati, .301 and Carl Furillo, Brooklyn, .300.

Showdown On A's Set For Today

By JACK HANCO

NEW YORK (AP)—The American League meets Thursday to try to decide, once and for all, whether the Athletics will stay in Philadelphia or move to Kansas City.

First item of business at the special meeting, called for 9:30 a.m. (EST) at the Waldorf Astoria, will be a vote on approval of an businessmen as new owners of the A's.

The home of Mack, Connie and his two sons, Roy and Earle, have signed the papers for the transfer of their stock to the syndicate in a deal involving approximately $4,000,000. The money is supposed to be in effect.

Six of the eight clubs must approve any new owner. Any three can block approval. It is not a certainty that the league will approve the new Philadelphia deal. If the eight-man syndicate is turned down it will be because of anti-Philadelphia sentiment among the other owners, rather than anything objectionable about the individuals involved.

At an Oct. 12 session in Chicago, the league approved Arnold Johnson, Chicago financier, as the new owner, and voted to move the franchise to Kansas City, contingent upon Johnson completing the deal with the house of Mack.

That was the last time the other clubs had a hand in the crazy, mixed-up story that even has the Philadelphia lawyers puzzled. What they will take Thursday can not be forecast accurately.

If the league does not okay the new Philadelphia setup, the Macks obviously would have the club on their hands again. Whether they would turn to Johnson's $3,375,000 offer or try to arrange yet another deal remains to be seen.

Will Harridge, league president, was not due in New York from Chicago until shortly before meeting time. He expected to be able to finish the session in one day. The syndicate's deal with the Macks holds good only to 3 p.m. Friday.

Yale football coach Jordan Oliver is employed by a Los Angeles insurance firm during the off-season.

Standings, Statistics Jibe Perfectly In Big 10

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten team football standings and statistical department jibe perfectly.

The unbeaten co-leaders, Ohio State and Michigan, head the league offensively and defensively, respectively, official statistics disclosed Wednesday.

The Buckeye in their four conference games have averaged 29.8 points. That gave them top offensive ranking even though Purdue, in two loop games, has averaged a better total gain, 331 yards to 360. Purdue's scoring average is only 16.5 per game.

Surprising Michigan, last Saturday blanked favored Minnesota, 34-0, moved in front defensively with a three game yield of 202 yards per game, 140 by rushing and 62 by passing.

Ohio State's well-blended attack is emphasized by the fact the Buckeyes average 44 yards per rush and 6.8 per pass. Purdue, although topping Ohio State's per play average,

Split-T Inventor Denies System Will Die Shortly

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP)—Maurice's Coach Don Faurot, inventor of football's split-T formation, took sharp issue Wednesday with Joe Kuharich, coach of the Washington Redskins, who predicted that the system would be dead within five or six years.

Kuharich joined his boss, George Preston Marshall, owner of the Redskins, in a number of comments about the split-T.

"If such football giants as Ohio State, current leader in the Associated Press weekly poll, Maryland, Oklahoma and Mississippi are wrong in using the split-T, then I'm perfectly willing to be wrong, too," Faurot said. He added that he sees no reason to fear for the life of the split-T so long as more and more colleges are adopting that style of play every year.

Nor did the Tiger mentor agree with Marshall's statement that the split-T is "easy to defend against."

"The split-T is still the toughest offense in defense in American football," Faurot said.

Kuharich said split-T players don't measure up to professional standards, and Faurot countered that development of football players for professional teams is not the mission of college football.

Nor does Faurot agree with Marshall's characterization of the split-T as "easy man's football," and that coaches don't have to teach the players to block.

"The split-T isn't easier to teach and its formations require good blocking, just as any other running game requires good blocking," Faurot said.

Faurot said he believes Kuharich's difficulties with forward passers stemmed not from split-T training, but from the fact that it isn't easy to find a man with throwing accuracy, judgment or the finesse which makes a great passer. He pointed out that Missouri's Vic Eaton, a split-T quarterback is now leading the Big Seven conference in forwarding passing.

Pappy's Poochie Cops Midwestern Field Trials

WELDON SPRING, Mo. (AP)—Pappy's Poochie, owned and handled by Alfred McCall of Ardmore, Okla., today was declared champion of the Midwestern Championship Field Trials.

The dog, a 6-year-old pointer male, had two finds—a single bird and a covey. It was the second championship for Pappy's Poochie, the first was four years ago at Booneville, Ark., in another regional event.

Runnerup here was Peter Rinski, another pointer male, owned and handled by R. R. (Jim) Waugh of Peoria, Ill.

The trials, sponsored by the Midwestern Championship Field Trial Assn., began Monday with 25 entries.

SAN BRUNO, Calif. (AP)—Wes Willie Shoemaker booted home four more winners at Tanforan race-track Wednesday—for the second day in a row—to boost his season record to 347 victories.

'66-1 Shot Cops Cambridgeshire Handicap By Neck

NEWMARKET, Eng. (AP)—Minstrel, a 66-1 shot, gladdened the hearts of his British backers Wednesday and enriched others around the world as he won the Cambridgeshire Handicap by a neck in a four-way photo finish.

Victory of the lightly backed three-year-old gave the British bookmakers their biggest pay day in years with virtually all the betting money being placed on a trio of joint favorites. The final Irish sweepstakes of the season is decided on the race as well.

Three minutes after the finish a photograph showed Minstrel the winner and Queen's Beches second. Another neck back was Marshall Ney. Trailing the front running three by something less than half a length was Tuk's Blood, one of the three favorites.

The payoff from the 36-horse field was $8,733 for Minstrel, owned by Lord Rosebery; $952 for Queen's Beches, owned by Mark Ostrer, and $476 for Marshall Ney, owned by J. J. Cosgrove.

In the final 50 yards the first four finishers were almost neck and neck and in the final stride Minstrel stretched his neck in front.

Minstrel's trainer, Jack Jarvis, rode Hackler's Pride to victory in the 1953 Cambridgeshire.

Minstrel, Other Winner Meet In Autumn Double

NEWMARKET, Eng. (AP)—The Cambridgeshire Stakes, won Wednesday by Minstrel, and the Cressingham, won 10 days ago by French Design, are coupled in one of Britain's biggest betting spees—the Autumn Double.

It works just like a daily double at a race track except that the races are days apart.

Minstrel and French Design paid one of the biggest prices of any available combination. A minimum $1.40 ticket was worth $3,358.60.

Hopping Presents Statue To AAU For Swim Award

NEW YORK (AP)—An international swimming award in the form of a life-size bronze statue Wednesday was presented to the national AAU by Bruce S. Happing, Maplewood, N. J., lumber executive.

The statue will stand permanently in the Payne Whitney Gymnasium at Yale and will be given annually to those named winners. It will be known as the AAU Swimming Award.

It is to be awarded to the "individual or organization, who through competitive performance, educational or instructional achievement, writing or development or original material, or by a continued effort to establish swimming facilities, has made the most outstanding contribution during the year to swimming on the national or international level."

Hopping is a swimming enthusiast who has acted as an official timer at National meets and in Europe.

Wife Of Former U.S. Amateur Golf Champ Poisoned

BURBANK, Calif. (AP)—The wife of former U. S. Amateur Golf champion George Von Elm died Wednesday of insecticide poisoning and a young family friend is held on suspicion of murder.

The body of Mrs. Mary Von Elm, 46, half Cherokee Indian and a movie dress designer, was found parked in a car on a tavern parking lot. With her was Roy Ford, 29, who lived with the Von Elms in a North Hollywood motel. A bottle of insecticide was found under the car.

The coroner's office said after an autopsy that it was not prepared to list the death as a homicide, suicide or accident. Cause of death was given as nicotine poisoning. The base of the insecticide—Black Leaf 40—is nicotine.

Dr. Frederick Newbarr, county autopsy surgeon, said he found evidence of sexual perversion.

Dr. Newbarr said he also found a cut on the back of Mrs. Von Elm's head, and abrasions on the left thigh, lower abdomen and chest.

Ford, protege of the 54-year-old Von Elm, told police he knocked the bottle of insecticide from Mrs. Von Elm's lips but "it was too late."

"I believe Roy," said Von Elm. "He was like a son to us. I know there was nothing between them. He often had trouble getting her home from bars."

Ford suffered a cut lip which he said he incurred when Mrs. Von Elm hit him.

Ford told police Lt. Kenneth Kipers he picked Mrs. Von Elm up at work last night, that they drank beer at several places and that she refused to give him the car keys when he said it was time to go home.

Scribe Picks Purdue, Michigan, Wisconsin

By JERRY LISKA

CHICAGO (AP)—The football prophet got all tangled up in his beard last Saturday. Combining outbursts—Ohio State, Michigan and Pittsburgh—here we go again.

Ohio State 21, Northwestern 12—The Bucks, No. 1 team in the AP poll, probably are ripe for an upset, but Northwestern can't win for losing ... Coach Bob Voigts will have his Wildcats full of snarl, though, especially after eight straight Big Ten defeats dating back to the 1952 season finale ... Northwestern's record may fool Ohio State ... three of the four Wildcat losses were by one touchdown.

Michigan 19, Indiana 7—It's a road game for the hardluck Hoosiers, or we'd give them a chance ... Anyway, the Wolverines will have to do more than show up ... Michigan's Bennie Oosterbaan has done one of the season's fine coaching jobs with injury-hobbled personnel.

Wisconsin 14, Iowa 13—The Badgers will play like they forgot to play in the last quarter against Ohio State. Iowa is a sharp team, but needed the breaks against Indiana ... Wisconsin has more at stake with only one Big Ten loss against Iowa's league defeats by Michigan State and Ohio State ...

Purdue 21, Illinois 13—Purdue still has a Big Ten tie chance, despite a loss to Wisconsin ... If Len Dawson can pitch the Boilermakers past Illinois and Iowa, their State may hold the key to the conference championship ... The Illini are going to give J. C. Caroline a free-wheeling day yet ... maybe soon ...

Minnesota 18, Michigan State 13—Ex-Mississippi State coach Murray Warmath now has learned by Michigan, his Gophers will be down for a tough assignment against the quick Spartans, still dangerous after three league losses ...

Notre Dame 21, Navy 19—The Irish have rested two weeks for this one ... The Middles haven't beaten Notre Dame since a 32-13 wartime conquest in 1944 ... They have the guns to hold off the Irish boarding party seeking a ninth straight scuttling of Navy ... Irish Quarterback Ralph Guglielmi is due for a good day ...

Friday night, Marquette 14, Detroit 7—The Warriors, still trying to set the sword off of the scabbard, face another stiff struggle ...

Caterpillars Whip Phillippines In World Tourney

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP)—The United States, represented by the Peoria, Ill. Caterpillars, won the opening game of the final round of the World Basketball Tournament Wednesday with a 56-43 victory over the Philippines.

The Caterpillars had to put on a closing drive to beat out the surprisingly strong Filipino team. The Philippines tied the score twice in the second half and led by five points after five minutes of play.

But then the Americans turned on the heat and scored 14 points in the last eight minutes while holding their rivals to eight.

The U. S. led 25-22 at the half, but the Filipinos came back after the intermission to grab the lead on an eight-point spurt. They were in front 31-26 when the Caterpillars opened up and shot into a 42-36 lead with eight minutes to go. With only three minutes remaining they were out in front 49-30.

Harper Upsets Flanagan In 10 Round TV Bout

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Maurice Harper, unranked and virtually unknown boxer from Oakland, vaulted into the welterweight picture Wednesday night by scoring a 10-round decision over the world's second-ranking contender, Del Flanagan of St. Paul.

Harper weighed 146½ and Flanagan, 150.

The two set a fast pace in the nationally-televised contest.

Flanagan, who holds a decision over the newly-crowned welterweight champion, Johnny Saxton, went into the ring as the favorite.

Harper, unawed by his rival's national prestige, hammered away steadily at the body to gain the unanimous decision of the referee and two judges.

There were no knockdowns.

Roy Campanella Out Of Hospital

BROOKLYN (AP)—The phone rang in the Brooklyn Dodgers' office Wednesday and the voice on the other end said, "This is the most valuable player in the National League in 1955."

That was how the Dodgers' front office learned officially that Roy Campanella was out of the operation on his left hand at Queens Memorial Hospital, Oct. 20. The veteran catcher was most optimistic about regaining the use of all the muscles in the hand that handicapped him so much during the past season.

Joe Adcock was the only regular on the Milwaukee Braves to bat over 300 in 1954. He hit .308.

2nd Round Matches Completed In 3rd Annual Golf Meet

PINEHURST, N. C. (AP)—The medalist and both 1953 finalists won their second round matches Wednesday in the third annual north and south seniors invitational golf tournament at the Pinehurst Country Club.

Thomas C. Robbins of Larchmont, N. Y., the medalist, defeated J. H. Ackerman of Princeton, N. J. 5 and 4. Defending Champion O. V. Russell of Pinehurst eliminated R. G. Elliott of Cincinnati 4 and 2. Last year's runnerup, Douglas Hill of Cincinnati, trimmed Harrison Smith of Oklahoma City, Okla. 3 and 4.

Chick Evans of Chicago, former U. S. open and amateur champion, edged Maurice Smith, Kansas City, 1 up, and Ray Robinson, Indianapolis, stopped Jack Britain, Woodhaven, Long Island, N. Y. 2 and 1.

Grid Tilt, Dance Friday At Bluffs High Homecoming

BLUFFS—Plans are being rushed to completion for the annual Homecoming of the Bluffs High school on Friday evening. The football game is between Bluffs and Virginia.

Following the game the Homecoming Queen will be crowned during the dance. The senior class sponsors this activity.

Candidates for queen are Charlene Bailey, Betty Huddleston and Janice Wilday, all seniors.

The attendants will be the two senior runners-up in the race for queen and two representatives each from the other classes: juniors—Marjorie Buhlig and Betty Likes; sophomores, Lia Hudson and Dixie Christison; freshmen, Connie Albers and Janet Bailey.

The identity of the queen will be revealed after the girls, escorted by members of the football team, have come into the Gym. This year's queen will be crowned by the queen of 1953, Mrs. Retha Phillips.

OES Initiates

Flax Chapter, No. 595, Order of the Eastern Star, held a special meeting in the Masonic Hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 26, with a nice attendance of members and guests to participate in the initiation of Mrs. Mary Lou Beckey into the order.

Mrs. Catherine Gathard is Worthy Matron and Oliver Chambers, V. M. Patron. Fred Kory assisted in the ceremony.

Guests were present from Peru, Indiana, and other chapters represented were Owen Scott Chapter in Decatur and Hay Springs, Neb.

At the close of the ceremony refreshments of cake, coffee and candy were served by the committee, Freda Hoots, Catherine Gathard, Mae Brookhouse and Stella Kory.

At Passavant

Fred Cackrell is a patient at Passavant hospital suffering from severe facial burns received Saturday at his farm west of Bluffs. He was attempting to crank a tractor when the crank flew off, hitting him in the left cheek and breaking the bone in several places.

He was taken to the office of Dr. Wallace MacMullen in Winchester, who advised taking the injured man to a Jacksonville surgeon for further treatment.

Personals
Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Elvings of Peru, Indiana are visiting relatives in the Bluffs and Naples communities.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Williams and family and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Meier visited Sunday with the Orval Meier family in Peoria.

Clyde Williams was in Chicago Tuesday and Wednesday accompanying Alfred Rahe with cattle.

New York Stock Market

By ARTHUR MERIMS
NEW YORK (AP)—Long term Treasury bonds reversed a two-week downtrend Wednesday. The corporate bond market was irregular.

Moderate demand for the government's 30-year 3 1/2% resulted in a 4-32 gain at 110-6 3/4 bid. Victory loan 2 1/2% of 1967-72 rose 6-32 at 99 12-32 bid. Medium and short term issues were steady.

Industrials favored the minus column as "big board" volume increased to $326,000 par value from $2,690,000 Tuesday. Railroads were erratic and utilities fairly steady.

German, Greek and Italian dollar bonds tilted the foreign section downward. Germany 7s dipped 1 1/4 points at 109 1/4. Japanese issues were neglected.

New York Bond Market

By RADER WINGET
NEW YORK (AP)—Earnings reports and dividend declarations dominated trading in the stock market Wednesday and resulted in highly mixed prices.

On balance, the market was slightly lower, but the dip lost significance when viewed against the influence of corporate developments.

The outstanding thing was the lower trend of steel, with U. S. Steel leading the fall, and the higher movement of aircrafts, with Lockheed up in front. Both stocks were influenced by dividends.

Most major divisions were mixed, but lower on balance with the steel were the railroads, rubbers and distillers.

Higher with the aircrafts were the farm implements, radio-televisions, and the airlines, which were strong Tuesday as well.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was down 10 cent at $135.30. It was off 30 cents Tuesday and $1.10 the day before.

The industrial component of the average declined 30 cents while the railroads dipped only 10 cents. The utilities were higher by 10 cents.

There was a small division between gains and losses with 423 stocks advancing and 453 declining out of the 1,159 individual issues traded. Altogether there were 43 new highs and 6 new lows for the year touched during the day.

Volume managed to pass the two million mark by 3:00 p.m. It hit 2,010,000 shares Tuesday.

All eyes were on U. S. Steel at the start because of declaration of the usual dividend when many in Wall Street had hoped for an extra. Steel opened on 8,000 shares off 1 1/4 at 57 1/4, and it closed at exactly that figure.

Lockheed in the afternoon boosted the dividend to 60 cents from 50 cents, and declared a 50-cent special plus 5 per cent in stock. It shot ahead immediately and closed up 2 at 44 1/4.

The American Stock Exchange was rather mixed on business amounting to 530,000 shares, the same as Tuesday.

Higher were American Republics, McDonnell Aircraft, Creole Petroleum, Kaiser Motors, Marion Power Shovel, Adam Hat, and New Idria Mining.

Lower were Fairchild Camera, Hazeltine Corp., Niles-Bement-Pond, Pacific Petroleum, Molbendum and Setlines.

The bond market was irregular. U. S. government issues in the over the counter market were somewhat higher.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

CHICAGO (AP)—The hog market declined Wednesday as producers unloaded 13,000 salable head, 4,000 more than expected and the largest for a Wednesday in about two years.

Butchers were 25 to mostly 50 cents lower with some late sales off a little more than 50 cents. Sows sold about 25 cents. A top of $19.25 was paid early but after the opening rounds $18.75 became the popular price for all butchers.

Buyers paid $18.75 to $19.10 for 180 to 270 pound butchers, while sows sold from $15.25 to $18.75.

Steers sold steady to 50 cents higher, the gain being made by prime offerings. Top was $31.00, highest price for steers since April 5. Most good to high-choice steers moved at $21.00 to $26.50. Salable receipts at 14,000 head were in line with expectations.

Heifers sold steady to strong. Good to low-choice heifers brought $21.00 to $23.50. Cows were steady to 25 cents lower at $9.00 to $12.00 for utility to low-commercial and $7.00 to $9.00 for canners and cutters. Vealers held firm at $19.00 to $23.00 for good and choice.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 1,500. Slaughter lambs sold steady to 50 cents lower while sheep held steady. Good to prime native woolled lambs moved at $18.00 to $21.25.

BEANS EASE AS RYE, WHEAT ADVANCE

By WILLIAM FERRIS
CHICAGO (AP)—Wheat and rye advanced, feed grains wound up with practically no price changes and soybeans eased on the Board of Trade Wednesday.

Everything except rye sold off in early dealings. From then on cereals worked slowly higher, soybeans lagging. In the closing minutes wheat enjoyed a spurt all by day's highs. Trading was rather slow all day.

Wheat closed 1/4-1 1/2 higher, corn unchanged to 1/4 higher, oats 1/4 lower to 1/4 higher, rye 1 1/2 to 2 1/4 cents higher, soybeans 1 to 2 1/4 lower and lard unchanged to 16 cents a hundred pounds lower.

March wheat went to a new seasonal peak. Buying in the bread grain came in part from mills, indicating a pick up in flour business. Reports of deterioration to wheat crops in Argentina and Australia also helped the market, although both countries have large carryovers.

Another stimulating factor was news the Foreign Operations Administration had granted $1,600,000 to Formosa to buy American bread grains.

Rye responded to recurrence of the off-heard rumor that West Germany would be in the market for cash rye. This time, however, the report said that country might obtain the rye from North America or Russia. Previously, only the United States had been mentioned.

Soybeans suffered mainly from profit taking. Their loss did not amount to much when set against Tuesday's advance extending to 8 cents. Buyers were reluctant to bid the price higher, despite reports many producers were holding beans for $3.00 a bushel.

Brokers said that $3.00 a bushel on the farm would be equivalent to about $3.25 a bushel at Chicago.

There also seemed to be some selling in soybeans on news Manchuria had sold some beans to Italy and Belgium. The total was said to involve 900,000 bushels. Weather was clear in most of Iowa and Minnesota, which should help bean harvesting grain men said.

Feed grains were under a little hedging pressure. Cash corn receipts totaled 208 cars. Prices in the spot market were easier. Cash oats held firm. Bean oil was a little lower but meal continued to advance, selling at $66 a ton.

Lard eased a little in view of a very heavy run of hogs and a dip of 1 1/4 cent in loose lard, which sold at 13 1/4 cents a pound.

CHICAGO (AP)—The hog market declined Wednesday as producers unloaded 13,000 salable head, 4,000 more than expected and the largest for a Wednesday in about two years.

Butchers were 25 to mostly 50 cents lower with some late sales off a little more than 50 cents. Sows sold about 25 cents. A top of $19.25 was paid early but after the opening rounds $18.75 became the popular price for all butchers.

Buyers paid $18.75 to $19.10 for 180 to 270 pound butchers, while sows sold from $15.25 to $18.75.

Steers sold steady to 50 cents higher, the gain being made by prime offerings. Top was $31.00, highest price for steers since April 5. Most good to high-choice steers moved at $21.00 to $26.50. Salable receipts at 14,000 head were in line with expectations.

Heifers sold steady to strong. Good to low-choice heifers brought $21.00 to $23.50. Cows were steady to 25 cents lower at $9.00 to $12.00 for utility to low-commercial and $7.00 to $9.00 for canners and cutters. Vealers held firm at $19.00 to $23.00 for good and choice.

Salable sheep receipts totaled 1,500. Slaughter lambs sold steady to 50 cents lower while sheep held steady. Good to prime native woolled lambs moved at $18.00 to $21.25.

Time No. Sutable For Talks

enhance made these other points:

1. Basic U.S. foreign policy must be bipartisan or nonpartisan. The operation of this basic policy, however, requires that a certain set of leaders in the government take responsibility and therefore to this extent the matter may become political and controversial.

2. Foreign policy as an issue has entered into the recent campaign but as to whether it would be basically affected by the outcome of the congressional elections the President said that so far as he knew every political leader on both sides had expressed substantially the same view about basic American foreign interests.

3. The President is delighted to have come here as visitors German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, Prime Minister Yoshida of Japan, Premier Mendes-France of France and Queen Mother Elizabeth of England. Evidently referring to Adenauer and the Queen Mother, he said that two of the four are old and good friends. He went on to praise Adenauer, arriving today, as one of the great statesmen of this time and a man animated by good sense, devoted to the well-being of his people and to world peace.

4. He may send some nominations and treaties to the special Senate session to be held immediately after the congressional elections. He said he thought there would be some things that can be taken care of. Some consideration has been given, it was learned elsewhere, to submitting the Southeast Asian treaty signed in September, and pending agreements on German rearmament, for study by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee with a view to early action at the session convening in January.

Name Mountbatten Britain's First Sea Lord

LONDON, Thursday (AP)—Adm. Earl Mountbatten of Burma Thursday was appointed Britain's first sea lord, fulfilling a boyhood pledge to his father.

The dashing 54-year-old admiral attained a lifelong ambition in winning the job his German-born father, Prince Louis of Battenberg, gave up under public pressure early in the first world war.

For Mountbatten, tall and handsome cousin of Queen Elizabeth II and uncle of the Duke of Edinburgh, it was the payoff of a promise he gave his father as a 15-year-old naval cadet, to redeem the family honor.

For Prime Minister Churchill the Mountbatten appointment marked an important vindication, too, in his nomination of the son for the father's old job.

As the civilian first lord of the Admiralty, Churchill personally chose Prince Louis for first sea lord in 1912. Louis threw himself into building up the British fleet against the German challenge to Britain's mastery of the seas.

Two months after the outbreak of war, however, Louis resigned to save the government from embarrassment when a public outcry blew up over his German ancestry and name.

Churchill accepted the resignation "with reluctance."

Prince Louis gave up his German titles and anglicized his name from Battenberg to Mountbatten. Mountbatten, a great grandson of Queen Victoria, now is commander in chief of Allied forces in the Mediterranean, a post which he gives up in December to Adm. Sir Guy Grantham.

He will assume his new duties in March, succeeding Admiral of the Fleet Sir Rhoderick R. McGrigor.

PENN R.R. REPORTS BIG PROFIT

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Railroad reported Wednesday it made a profit of more than two million dollars in September, enough to wipe off a 1954 deficit and put the company in the black for the first time this year.

It was the sixth straight month that America's largest railroad had a net profit—$2,067,710 as compared with 2,313,362 for September, 1953.

Thus at the end of nine full months the PRR reported a profit of $139,139 as against the whopping earnings of $28,690,518 for the comparable 1953 period.

The railroad's directors met Wednesday and, heartened that the deficit is gone, declared a dividend of 75 cents a share, payable Dec. 6 to stockholders of record Nov. 8.

NURSERY FOR NURSES

HUDSON, N. Y. (AP)—The Columbia Memorial Hospital, faced with a shortage of trained personnel, has provided a nursery for the children of married nurses.

Union Leaders, Labor Secretary Swap Verbal Blows

WASHINGTON (AP)—AFL and CIO leaders lashed out Wednesday at Secretary of Labor Mitchell's claim of national prosperity and accused him of dodging economic facts in trying to get workers to vote Republican.

Mitchell fired back in a Labor Department statement saying that when the job situation was considerably darker in early 1950 the labor leaders did not criticize the Democrats.

AFL President George Meany and Chairman Emil Rieve of the CIO Economic Policy Committee put out separate statements saying Secretary of Labor Mitchell, in a nationwide radio and television Broadcast Tuesday night, stressed an October drop in unemployment but failed to mention that employment, too, had declined.

They also said the secretary neglected to say that the jobless number twice as many as a year ago. Meany said Mitchell presented "a rosy but inaccurate picture" of the job situation and Rieve spoke critically of "a sudden pre-election sympathy for the jobless."

Secretary Mitchell said it was "regrettable that political considerations" have impelled Meany and Rieve "to attack an administration which has reduced unemployment when they stood so silent" in 1950, a time he said, when there were 4,600,000 unemployed and President Truman said three to five million unemployed would be supportable.

Douglas Submits Record In U.S. Senate To Voters

CHICAGO (AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas said Wednesday night "above all else, I have worked for international peace by means of keeping strong allies, a strong national defense and preserving the United Nations."

In a talk prepared for a dinner meeting of members of Labor's League for Political Education, Douglas, the Democratic nominee for reelection, said he believes a man ought to seek public office on his record.

Then he listed some of his accomplishments.

"They included, he said, support for the President on collective security and foreign aid, opposition to the Bricker amendment which would limit the President's treaty making powers, "exposure of favoritism and influence peddling in the RFC," exposure of windfall profits in the rental housing section of the Federal Housing Administration, and support for a fair employment bill, a code of fair play in congressional investigations and a code of ethics in government."

Douglas said he also co-sponsored the amendment to outlaw the "Communist conspiracy," supported legislation to improve the social security and unemployment systems; opposed cuts in the foreign aid program and "rejected attempts to cut the muscle out of our national defense."

"I have worked for a better Robinson-Patman Act for small business, and I helped to stop measures to ruin that law," Douglas said. "I have sought the elimination of waste in government operations and reductions in unwarranted subsidies. I have sponsored fair pay schedules for government workers. I have opposed bills to help monopolies hurt consumers. I have worked for the passage of bills far not only to labor and management, but to the public as well."

"That is my record. I submit it to the voters of Illinois."

Paint Companies Give Advice On Baby's Diet

WASHINGTON (AP)—At first glance, the National Paint, Varnish and Lacquer Assn. looks like the last organization in the world to be giving advice on baby's diet.

Yet here it is today with this announcement. If your youngster persists in gnawing on wood or in eating inedible items, take him to a doctor promptly.

Naturally the first question is: Why do the paint and varnish people care?

Their president, Gen. Joseph F. Battley, said the answer is simple. Almost every time a child becomes ill or dies after chewing on a painted object, paint gets the blame.

Because of this, his association has been doing research on the problem for years. Its conclusion: "Paint is overly condemned."

During its studies the association has come up with some information on a weird disease known as the pica.

Every parent has been horrified at what a tot will stick into his mouth. But Battley said some youngsters go far beyond this, and show a constant craving for furniture, dirt, coal plaster or fibre.

He said this child may be suffering from the pica. This pica has nothing to do with the size of type; it gets its name from the birds. The magpie belongs to the pica family, birds that will pick up almost anything and eat it.

After the business meeting a winter roast was enjoyed with food furnished by the Pack. Square and round dancing was enjoyed in the gym.

Missouri Men Hurt In Pike County Accident

PIITTSFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Two Missouri men, James Chambers Jr., 26, and his brother, Frank Leroy Chambers, 25, were painfully injured Tuesday afternoon in an accident on route 36 two miles east of Detroit. Both are patients in the Illinois hospital suffering from multiple cuts and bruises.

The Chambers brothers, the eldest driving, were in a 1953 Ford headed east. They claimed the vehicle directly ahead of them, a truck driven by Richard Branstetter who was accompanied by Lawrence Evans, both of Curryville, Mo., turned without signaling. The Chambers car crashed into the truck, causing injuries to the passenger occupants but not injuring the men riding in the truck.

The Ford was extensively damaged. The Chambers brothers are remaining as patients at the Pittsfield hospital.

Meek Blasts Gift Of Builders' Head To Douglas Fund

CHICAGO, Oct. 27 (AP)—Joseph T. Meek said Wednesday U.S. Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) "has disqualified himself from confidence of the voters by having his campaign collectors accept a contribution from a man who is under investigation by a senatorial committee of which my opponent is a member."

Meek, Douglas' Republican opponent, said in a statement he was referring to a campaign donation by Nathan Manlow, principal stockholder of American Community Builders, Inc., of Chicago. Meek said the firm, builders of suburban Park Forest, has been under investigation by the Senate Banking and Currency Committee, headed by Sen. Capehart (R-Ind.). Douglas is a member of the committee.

Meek said he had proof Manlow made a contribution to a citizen's committee for Douglas.

"The operations of Manlow and his company were under investigation by the committee on which my opponent sits several months before the contribution to my contribution to my opponent's campaign was made," Meek asserted. "The contribution was made to a fund of a citizen's committee for my opponent. If he says he doesn't know what the contributions to that fund are, he is talking in terms of complete nonsense."

George A. Poole Jr., chairman of the Illinois Citizens for Eisenhower-Meek committee, said he received a telegram from President Eisenhower Wednesday referring to Meek as "future United States Senator Joe Meek."

Poole quoted the President as saying "I... hope you will let everyone concerned know of my appreciation of their enthusiastic support of future United States Senator Joe Meek. With such determination and zeal on behalf of those who, with us, are determined to carry forward the program for America, victory will surely be won Nov. 2. To you, to Joe Meek, the Citizens for Eisenhower who are helping to carry this struggle through to victory, I send my warmest good wishes for success."

Allocation Of Funds For Chest Announced

Rites Wednesday At Merritt For Mrs. Mattie Leach

WINCHESTER—Funeral services for Mrs. Mattie Leach were held Wednesday afternoon at 2 p. m. at the Merritt Methodist Church with the Rev. F. V. Wright and the Rev. W. E. Gustafson officiating.

Lloyd Gordon sang two vocal selections, "Sweet Hour of Prayer" and "Christian's Good Night" accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Gordon at the piano.

Active pallbearers were Scott Dunham, Dewey Coultas, Chester Knapp, Albert Rutherford, Hunter Funk, Richard Overton, Howard Hurrellink and Aox Chappin.

Honorary pallbearers were Dave Hawk, Elmer McCullough, William Worrall, John Murray, Dr. Gurn Norbury and Dr. Wallace MacMillan.

Those caring for the flowers were Mrs. Edith Funk, Mrs. Edith Kalschnee, Mrs. Nettie Coultas, Mrs. Mabel Rutherford, Mrs. Eileen Coultas, Mrs. Marjorie Alfin, Mrs. Clemma Bown, Mrs. Phoebe Hall, Mrs. Eda Hunter, Mrs. Margaret Green, Mrs. Janie McCullough, Mrs. C. E. Stoner and Mrs. Edward Joy.

Burial was made in Diamond Grove Cemetery in Jacksonville.

Clarendon Smith, president of the Morgan County Community Chest, issued a report Wednesday showing the amounts allocated to the various agencies in the Chest.

The report showed the following breakdown:

|---------------------|------------|
| Salvation Army | $6,500.00 |
| Girl Scouts | 5,764.00 |
| Boy Scouts | 7,954.00 |
| Y. M. C. A. | 15,504.00 |
| Catholic Youth Org. | 500.00 |
| Community Council | 200.00 |
| Ill. Heart Assn. | 300.00 |
| Travelers Aid | 48.00 |

President Smith pointed out that these amounts had been previously approved by the Board of Directors.

"This does not mean, necessarily, that each agency will get the total amount approved," he said. "If, for example, we did not make our goal this year, then it would probably be necessary to make a percentage reduction for all the agencies. However, we are confident that the people of Morgan county will make certain that this will not be necessary."

"The response thus far makes us feel very optimistic about reaching our goal."

Junior Club At Ashland Told Of Teaching Abroad

Mrs. Maxine Guthrie, president, presided at the Ashland Junior Women's club meeting which was held last Thursday Oct. 21 in the home of Mrs. Fred Walbaum of Pleasant Plains. Miss Virginia Walbaum and Miss Evelyn Farmer were the hostesses.

Cerebral Palsy Is Grotto Parade Theme

Pictured above is a scene from the Zingabed Grotto Ceremonial parade as it moved through downtown Jacksonville Saturday. The scene shows the Cerebral Palsy float built by Zingabed Grotto which was pulled by Grotto members. Three children who are being treated and instructed through the local public schools are shown on the float, one demonstrating the use of a stabilizer which was donated by the Grotto for use in the local school system. One child's mother rides on the float. Tom Goller is the Grotto member in the foreground, and William Crozier, background.

The humanitarian project for and for those afflicted with cerebral palsy is a national project of the Supreme Council, Mystic Order of Veiled Prophets of the Enchanted Realm, and was the general subject of the address given by the Grand Secretary, Otto F. Hillebrand, following the ceremonial banquet at the Dunlap Hotel. Mr. Hillebrand stressed the importance of the local Grotto in aiding in the work of the Supreme Council and emphasized the value of community work being done by the Grottoes in the United States. He commented on the work being done by Zingabed Grotto and stated that the Supreme Council's project of research and treatment, which is carried on entirely from contributions of Grotto members, is progressing and that the national goal should be reached by the first of next year.

Sale Of Bonds Puts $1,250,000 In Bank For City

Mayor Ernest Hoagland and Special Attorney Orville Foreman received word Wednesday morning that $1,250,000 had been credited to the City of Jacksonville in the Harris Trust & Savings Bank at Chicago.

The funds were from the sale of general obligation bonds which were signed Tuesday afternoon by Mayor Hoagland and City Clerk John R. Phillips at Chicago.

The mayor and city clerk went to Chicago by train Tuesday morning. They had intended to fly to the Windy City but because of the low visibility at the Midway Airport they were forced to go by train. The city officials returned to Jacksonville at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

The signing of the bonds required about 30 minutes. The signing took place in the offices of the American Bank Note company in the presence of two officials from the First National Bank of Chicago, which purchased the bonds.

By the use of a signograph, 18 checks were signed simultaneously.

Mayor Hoagland stated Wednesday morning that the legal limit of the funds would be placed in the Farmers State Bank & Trust company and the Elliott State Bank in this city with all surplus to be deposited with the Harris Trust & Savings Bank in Chicago.

At the meeting of the city council next Monday night all approved claims from contractors and material firms will be ordered paid.

As work progresses on the water transmission line to the Illinois river additional withdrawals will be made from the accounts in the various banks.

While rain halted work on the huge pipe line Tuesday, laying of the pipe was resumed Wednesday morning.

The Illinois governor, in an appearance in East St. Louis Tuesday, also said that by next summer the state hopes to have converted U. S. Highway 66 into a four-lane artery from Joliet to East St. Louis.

Stratton said there is between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 immediately available for the freeway project which will be financed 83 per cent by the federal and state government and 17 per cent by the city. No date has been set for the start of construction.

The freeway, aimed at easing traffic problems caused by the 66,000 cars carried into the city daily on four major highways, will cover two and one-half miles from the eastern terminus of the Veterans Memorial Bridge northeast to U.S. Highways 40, 66 and 67 on the city's northern limits.

The freeway also will have a tie-in with U. S. Highway 50 and plans call for it to be elevated in parts and have underpasses at some major streets.

The governor also dedicated a $35,000 youth center at nearby Collinsville Tuesday night.

Stratton To Show $8 Million 4-Lane Highway Plans

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — Gov. William Stratton says present plans call for Illinois to start buying right-of-way for the East St. Louis Freeway — an eight million dollar project — in December.

Visit Shepherd Of Hills Country

Miss Fern Haigh of the City Clerk's office, and Miss Louise Strandberg of the Circuit Clerk's office, have returned from a week's vacation spent in the Ozarks in and around Branson, Mo., and Eureka Springs, Ark.

Near Branson, Mo., just above Old Matt's cabin, the people of Branson have made Inspiration Point into a public park and life size statues of the characters of Harold Bell Wright's book "The Shepherd of the Hills" are being placed there. At the present time the statue of the Old Shepherd is already placed and bases for others such as Aunt Molly, Sammy Lane, young Matt are all set and when the statues of these characters are completed they will be set up on this point.

While in Branson Misses Haigh and Strandberg drove to Hollister, Mo., just across the White River and visited with Miss Haigh's cousin, Mrs. Helen Hackett who is now living there, and on their return trip they stopped at Aurora, Mo. to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Moats. Mrs. Moats is the former Pearl Frost of this city.

They reported wonderful weather and beautiful scenery all along the way.

Pittsfield High Homecoming Fete Begins Tonight

PITTSFIELD—The Homecoming celebration of the Pittsfield high school will get off to an early start tonight with a pep meeting and snake dance to be staged in front of the high school building beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Homecoming parade, with sixteen floats entered, will begin at two o'clock Friday afternoon, bearing on the theme of song titles. Prizes will be awarded for the best and most originally decorated of the floats. The students have in previous years entered floats of many beautiful designs, and it is reported that this year they have worked harder to make the parade of floats even more attractive than formerly.

The Homecoming football game Friday night will be played between the Saukies Indians and the Carrollton Hawks on the football field at the new high school building, which is now under construction in the south part of the city. The local high school band will play at the game and there will be band music and other entertainment at the half.

The Homecoming dance and crowning of the Homecoming Queen will be held at the high school gymnasium, which has been appropriately decorated following the game, with music to be provided by the Carl Landrum Orchestra of Quincy.

Candidates for Homecoming Queen are: freshmen, Sue Frazer and Judy Orrill; sophomores, Kathleen Higgins and Janet Blacketter; juniors, Ann Dimmitt and Ann Aldrich; seniors, Zoe Benson, Kay Frank, Carole Cantrell and Carole Barber, with one of the seniors to be named Queen.

The senior football boys will escort the girls to the throne. Miss Bonnie Lashmet, prom Queen this year, will be an honorary attendant to the Homecoming Queen.

Also participating in the crowning event will be Miss Catherine Cunningham, Homecoming Queen of last year, who is now employed at an Air Force Base in Washington, D. C. She has planned to be here and will be a receptionist for the incoming Queen. Her escort, who also escorted her as Queen last year, will be James Sidwell, a student at the state university at Columbia, Mo., who will spend the weekend at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sidwell.

Farm Bureau Program

Miss Helen Hackman, Home Adviser, reports that the bureau's annual meeting will be held at the Clark theater here next Friday, Nov. 5. Mrs. Grace Lew, a native of China, will be the guest speaker, addressing the group on the subject "Chinese Women and Their Customs."

It is reported that Mrs. Lew is a woman of great charm and personality, widely known as a teacher of children, trainer of kindergarten supervisors, educator of mothers and social workers.

Mrs. Evart Irick, county chairman, will be in charge of the meeting which will begin at ten in the morning, with the women of the Christian church serving a luncheon at noon.

The public will be welcome at this outstanding meeting.

The motoramic Chevrolet for '55

Chevrolet and General Motors took a whole new look at the low-cost car—and just look what happened!

NOW BEING SHOWN!

The Bel Air Sport Coupe—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series.

The valve-in-head V8 as only the valve-in-head leader can build it!

8

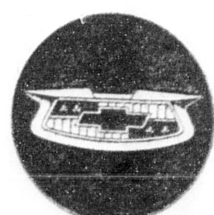

Now Chevrolet, the leading builder of valve-in-head engines, introduces the "Turbo-Fire V8." It carries the V8 design to a new high in efficiency with its high horsepower (162), high-compression (8 to 1), high performance and surprisingly high gas mileage. Available with standard transmission, or with the extra-cost options of Overdrive or Powerglide.

You can choose from two new sixes, too!

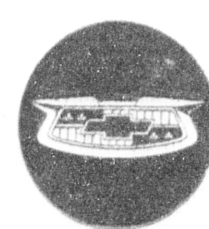

Chevrolet also offers the last word in six-cylinder performance and economy! There's a new "Blue-Flame 136" teamed with Powerglide and a new "Blue-Flame 123" with either standard transmission or Overdrive.

Can't you tell just by looking that Chevrolet and General Motors have come up with a completely new idea about the low-priced car? The idea is this: to build a car that offers the very newest thing in styling, the most modern features, the finest kind of performance and the highest quality of manufacture—all at a modest price. It's something that took a lot of doing and that only the world's leading car builders could do. Everything's new in this Motoramic Chevrolet from its lower top right down to its tubeless tires. Come in for the most fascinating visit you ever made to an automobile showroom!

More than a new car—a new concept of low-cost motoring!

To The Voters Of Morgan County

I am a candidate for County Commissioner on the Democratic ballot. I am 58 years of age. I was born in Morgan county on a farm near Waverly. I am married and have three daughters, all married and living in Morgan county. I have owned and successfully operated my farm in the Waverly community for the past 22 years. I have been active in civic organizations, having been a 4-H club leader, member of the school board and organizer and president of West Union community Club.

I am a member of New Hope Baptist church. I have had much experience in business offices and I feel I am thoroughly qualified for the duties of the office which I seek. If I am elected county commissioner of Morgan county, I shall conduct the duties of that office in an economical, business-like, courteous manner, keeping in mind the tax payers at all times. I am for competitive bidding on all quantity products purchased for the county. This will save you money. Thank you.

THIS NEWSPAPER WOULD NOT PRINT THIS AS NEWS!

IT CONCERNS YOUR MONEY—YOUR GOVERNMENT
IT IS PRINTED THEREFORE AT MY COST AND FOR YOUR INFORMATION

James C. Craven, Springfield attorney and Democratic candidate for state senator, in a statement released today, made a vigorous attack on the unwarranted giveaway of $5,700,000 by the last session of the state legislature to the city of Chicago, for the purpose of building a convention hall or "exposition hall."

The General Assembly, according to Craven, last session provided an appropriation of almost $6,000,000 out of the fair and exposition fund and almost all of this appropriation can be used by a non-government corporation in the city of Chicago for such a building. Having once obtained this money from the state, he says, there is no method available to the state by which it can check on the proper expenditure of these funds. Once the money is paid out of the state treasury to this corporation, it can be treated by that corporation practically as its own funds. It becomes the same as their own. Their books are not audited by the state.

The General Assembly resisted efforts by many prominent leaders from downstate Illinois to add provisions to this legislation that would entitle Springfield and other downstate cities, as well as Chicago, to share in the fund. The text of Craven's statement is as follows:

"The last session of the Illinois General Assembly, in which no opponent was an active leader in the state Senate, short changed the school children of this state a substantial sum of money, because somebody made the incredible mistake of being unable to figure out the total enrollment in the public schools of Illinois. As a result of this blunder, many of the schools of the state that are dependent upon state aid are now operating with less funds than are absolutely necessary to give a decent education to the children of this state.

"The State Legislature, in its last session, denied these funds to the schools and hoisted off economy. The same State Legislature, under the same leadership, passed a very short bill, by the terms of which $5,700,000 were taken out of the state treasury and handed on a platter to a private corporation in the city of Chicago for purposes of building a convention hall, the only utility of which is to enable certain business establishments in downtown Chicago to train such patrons as they can from convention in the city of Chicago. This is an improper use of public funds and this enactment should be repealed. Although $2,628,697.07 has been paid by the state to this outfit in Chicago for its own use, the state does not audit its books, nor does the state have an accounting on the funds under present law and the rules and regulations applicable thereto.

"At a time when there are so many legitimate government needs for state funds, it is in my judgment, incredible that the state legislature, under the leadership of my opponent, could be so reckless with state funds. I believe he is under a duty to explain to the people of his district why he voted for and supported this unwarranted giveaway, why he voted for and supported this gift to Chicago and denied downstate cities any participation in this fund by the device of only allowing cities of 500,000 or more to participate in the fund.

"Public money should not, now, nor in the foreseeable future, be used to build a convention hall for anybody, until we have adequate schools, and until the department of welfare, now grievously in need of funds, is adequately provided for.

"As the Democratic candidate for state senator, I stand pledged to the repeal of this giveaway. I hope that my opponent will likewise acknowledge his mistake and pledge himself to the repeal of this giveaway."

of one party—regardless of

Shower Honors Shirley Lakamp At Arenzville

A bridal shower for Miss Shirley Lakamp was given at the home of Mrs. Aldo Hierman, with Mrs. Howard Dietrick as assistant hostess.

The table for the gifts was covered with a white cloth. Pink and white streamers centered with a large white bell fastened from the chandelier were fastened to the corners of the table with small white bells.

The evening was spent with contests and bingo. Mrs. Marvin Gummert and Mrs. Earl Hackman winning the prizes of the contests. High Score for bingo was won by Mrs. Martin Burrus. Low score, Mrs. Raymond Dufemeier.

The many lovely gifts were unpacked by Shirley. Miss Eileen Dufemeier registered the gifts.

Refreshments of ice cream, ribbon cake, punch and milk were served with some of pink and white streamers.

Out of town guests were Miss Eileen Dufemeier, Walnut, Ill.; Mrs. A. Dietrick and daughter, Judd St. Louis, Mo.; and Miss Shirley Lakamp and mother, Mrs. William Lakamp of Chicago.

Mayor Ernest L. Hoagland, signing the Proclamation, making Sunday, October 31, United Nations day in Jacksonville. Others in the picture (left to right) are Warren Flower, Secretary of the Jacksonville United Nations Committee, Mrs. Lawrence Crawford, Chairman of the UNICEF "Tricks or Treats" solicitation, and Mrs. Friedrich Engelbach, President of the Jacksonville Council of United Church Women. Not present in the picture is Mrs. Pryor Bossarte of Our Saviour's Church.

The mayor's proclamation follows:

WHEREAS Sunday, Oct. 31, is the date being observed in Jacksonville as UNITED NATIONS Day;

WHEREAS the observance will take the form of the participation of hundreds of church school, youth fellowship and parochial school children in the UNICEF Halloween project "Trick or Treat for all the world's children;" and

WHEREAS UNICEF is the only international organization of children of the churches of Jacksonville to actively participate in the UNICEF "Tricks or Treats" project;

WHEREAS UNICEF is supported by the financial contributions of the people of the city of Jacksonville;

WHEREAS I, Ernest L. Hoagland, Mayor of the city of Jacksonville, do hereby proclaim Sunday, Oct. 31, 1954, to be UNITED NATIONS Day, and I do hereby urge all children of the churches of Jacksonville to actively participate in the UNICEF "Tricks or Treats" project.

In witness whereof, I hereunto set my hand and affix the seal of the city of Jacksonville this 28th day of October, 1954.

DOSHBURGERS STAGE HOMECOMING PARADE

This year's homecoming queen and king, plus their senior attendants, rode in high style in Friday's parade. Betty Werries was queen and Paul Kleinlein the king. Their attendants were Don Werries and Hazel Simmons. They were crowned at the dance Friday evening by last year's king and queen, Delbert Fuelling and Nancy Little.

Other attendants of the evening included Rex Tracy and Sandra Little of the junior class; Jack Gregory and Lois Riley, sophomores; Wayne Goewey and Doty Hobson, freshmen; Vicky Sieving and Jeannie Cooper, crownbearers.

The Yachtsmen of Beardstown furnished the music for the dance held at Meredosia High School immediately after the game.

Jacobus' Time May Be Running Out But He's Living Every Minute Of It

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
WASHINGTON GROVE, Md. (AP)—Time may be running out for Walter Jacobus, but he's going to keep busy to the last minute.

He made up his mind about that when he was told in 1950 that he had from two to five years to live.

Now 39, he's keeping busy by running—from a wheelchair—the job placement bureau of the National Press Photographers Assn. Since there's no salary attached, he operates a little watch shop in his home here. His wife, Alberta, commutes to a job as bookkeeper in a Washington, D.C., printing shop.

Photography has been a consuming interest since he started in 1939 as a darkroom assistant with the FBI. He had advanced to photographing evidence by the time he joined the Marines in World War II.

In 1944 he fell sick and after a medical discharge went back to his job at FBI headquarters in Washington. Nobody could find out what was wrong with him.

He switched to press photography, later opened his own studio and in 1949 went to Paris shop with the Economic Cooperation Administration. In Paris his ailment caught up with him again. He was rushed back to the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md. An intern stumbled on diagnosis—a rare type of upset metabolism.

That's when he was told he had two to five years to live.

"This was quite a shock," Jacobus tells you with a grin that still looks healthy. "But my work in press photography—corny as the may sound—had made me very interested in living. I'd met kings, queens, presidents, all kinds of people, and I made up my mind to keep busy. I'm still going strong and intend to keep on that way."

It hasn't been easy.

One morning he woke up and found he couldn't walk. He was told that the inroads of his disease had paralyzed him for life. Unable to go on in press photography, Jacobus took to a watch-making course and opened his shop.

But if he couldn't be a photographer himself, Jacobus decided, the next best thing would be to make himself to serve to press photographers. He took over the job placement bureau.

"There is no time in a man's life," he says, "when he needs a helping hand as much as when he faces the helplessness and hopelessness of painless paralysis. We hope to be able, eventually, to help capable men relocate in the fastest possible time."

"We want to acquaint employers with this free service so that they can find good men in the fastest possible time."

And what does the NPPA think of Jacobus?

One officer put it this way: "He's quite a man. God bless him."

Private Garbage Hauling Banned In Pittsfield

PITTSFIELD — There has been considerable discussion in the city for some time, both pro and con, concerning a newly enacted city ordinance prohibiting garbage collection by anyone except the new Municipal Sanitation Service which is operated by Lindsey Perrine. Several who have been hauling garbage and trash for a number of years were given a short time to finish their contracts with their regular customers, but had continued collection in defiance of the ordinance.

At a recent meeting of the city council, on motion of Alderman Floyd Yaezer that Mayor Kline-felter see that the garbage ordinance was now enforced, the mayor ordered Police Officer Claud Wilson to arrest all garbage or trash haulers, excepting only the Municipal Sanitation Service. In pursuance of the mayor's order Clifford Rowley and Mrs. Allen Elliott were arrested on complaint of Ted Elder who stated that he had seen them collecting garbage as usual. Both had been in the business here for a number of years and felt that their right to make a living was being taken away from them.

Rowley and Mrs. Elliott were taken into justice court on Monday before Judge Roland Varner. Neither made any defense against the charge of violating the city ordinance but appealed their case to the Circuit Court for its decision. The city council has a legal right to pass in the matter of whether or not the ordinance which they claim is depriving them of a method of livelihood.

It is reported that a number of sympathetic residents of the city have donated funds to assist the two in hiring an attorney to represent them.

Unit District 10

The semi-annual banquet meeting of the teachers of Unit District 10 was held at Baylis on Tuesday night. The unit has one hundred teachers who have their own association and officers, with Milburn Wardell of Pearl as president. The dinner meeting Tuesday night featured a panel discussion on school legislation. Members of the panel were Milburn Wardell, principal of the Pearl schools, Miss Minna Bauch, superintendent of the elementary schools in Pittsfield, Randall Frank, speech correctionist for the district and Dale Willard, principal of the schools at Milton. Miss Helen Harmon, teacher of English and History in the Pittsfield high school served as moderator.

Guests at the meeting were Harold Voshall, administrator of the district, and Mrs. Voshall, and members of the Board of Education of District 10 and their wives. The husbands and wives of the members of the association were also guests.

4-H Officer.

Officers for 1954-55 were elected at a meeting of the Pike county 4-H Federation held at the Farm Bureau hall here. Those elected were: president, Sylvia Wineland, Pleasant Hill; vice president, Dick Piele, El Dara; secretary-treasurer, Linda Watson, Pittsfield; reporter, Bill Ducey and recreation, Gail Orr, Perry.

The date for the achievement meeting in Pike county for 4-H Agriculture and Home Economics Clubs was set for Saturday morning, November 13. Each county in Illinois, according to announcement by the reporter, is expected to contribute toward the establishment of building and improvements at their district camp site. The club voted to contribute one thousand dollars toward the quota for Pike county. The view was expressed that the 4-H concessions at the Grigsville and Pleasant Hill Farms each summer makes this donation possible.

The Federation voted to sponsor a banquet honoring the 4-H leaders of 1954 soon. A recreation meeting for Federation members was planned for January 12, with each member to bring a guest. The recreation committee appointed consists of Gale Orr, Dick Piele, Kay Webel and Dale Pearn. A committee appointed to prepare a 4-H Federation constitution has as its members, Sylvia Wineland, Kay Webel, Dick Piele, and Bill Ducey.

Personals

Gerald Lynn Buchanan, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Buchanan of Pearl, received emergency treatment at Illini hospital at 9 o'clock Monday night and was released to go home. The child had fallen down a set of concrete steps and injured his head painfully, but not seriously.

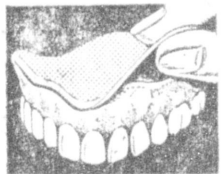

Johnson Jex, antique dealer, is a patient in Illini hospital where he is being treated for a serious respiratory condition. His condition was reported at the hospital to be slightly improved on Tuesday morning.

Frank Main, jeweler, has returned to the hospital for further treatment. He had returned to his home after spending a week under treatment at the hospital, and upon the advice of his physician he returned as a patient on Monday.

WILL YOUR CAR GO SOUTH FOR THE WINTER?

If you are going to drive around in a tropical paradise from now until next June there is no reason why you should pay any attention to the following suggestions: Your car needs special preparation for winter just as much as you need a furnace fire, an overcoat, and all the other special equipment for freezing temperatures, ice, snow, slush and storm.

It will not only save you much money but assure safety and comfort on the road if you will now—without further delay—have your car checked over and prepared for the cold months ahead.

Most of our repair business all winter is on cars that were neglected in October. Owners could have saved about 90% of those bills by doing the obvious things before winter really arrived.

What are you going to do about it? Yes, indeed, we have everything necessary—this is a really up-to-date motor car maintenance establishment. Drive in any time.

As the murder trial of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard opened its second week, some tentative jurors were called up for further questioning as both sides prepared to exercise their peremptory challenges. When Juror Thomas J. Solli was recalled, a minor sensation was caused as counsel discovered that he, another juror and Judge Blythin had all received copies of a "crank" letter. Here, left to right, is the huddle as the letter was examined: Defense Attorneys Fred Garmone and William J. Corrigan, Solli, Prosecution Counsel John J. Mahon and "back turned" Thomas Parrino.

Strollers Need Men For Roles In New Play

The Strollers, an organization of interested men and women whose aim is to provide entertainment for the young people of the community, met in business session Monday evening at the home of Mrs. W. D. Cole, 1122 West State street.

Reports were heard from Miss Nancy Pierce, secretary; Miss Helen Sweeney, treasurer; Mrs. W. D. Cole, chairman of the play reading committee; and others. Mrs. Jean Spencer was elected first vice president to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Richard Rowe, Jr.

During the evening plans were made tentatively for some of the activities of the approaching winter. In their two years of existence, the Strollers have emphasized either fairy tale or fantasy in their productions (Prince Fairyfoot, The Emperor's New Clothes, McElligott's Pool, and a radio play, My Pal, Curly).

This year, they wish to present a play of another type, the historical play. However, if such a play is to be given successfully, masculine parts must be taken by men. The present needs is for men to participate in the production either as actors or in other departments of staging. To this end it was decided to appeal to service clubs, PTAs and other organizations, to try to recruit new members. Interested friends and members of the group will appear before as many of these organizations as possible to attract new talent for this worthwhile project.

Try-outs for the new play will begin Monday evening, Nov. 1, at 7:30 in Jones Memorial Chapel on the Illinois College campus. These are open to everyone.

Members also discussed possible participation in the 1954 West Central Illinois Community Workshop which will be held at Illinois College on Nov. 21. Before adjournment mention was made of the UNICEF project on Oct. 31, and members were urged to participate.

PRACTICAL SUPERSTITION

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—That old superstition about nont going under a ladder might have some practical applications. Ask Henry Jackson or Jesse Culver.

Jackson fell two stories while painting a house. Oliver, his employer, standing on the ground, was struck by Jackson and the ladder.

Culver told police two girls on a bicycle rode under the ladder Jackson was using and jarred it loose. Both men were treated at a hospital for minor injuries.

Give 100 Roses To Centenarian At Church Rites

JERSEYVILLE — One hundred red roses were presented to William D. Landon of Jerseyville Sunday at the close of the morning services of the First Baptist Church, in recognition of his 100th birthday anniversary which he celebrated Oct. 22nd. Mr. Landon has been a member of the church for 84 years and has occupied various offices during that period. He was named deacon emeritus on May 13, 1953 after serving as deacon since 1934 and was church treasurer from Jan. 1, 1951 to Aug. 1, 1950.

One of the largest congregations assembled at the church for many years was present Sunday to honor Mr. Landon over 155 being registered. The presentation of the roses was made by the deacons of the church. The church bulletin for the day contained the Bible quotation from the Psalms "Because he hath set his love upon me, with long life will I satisfy him." It also ran a tribute in poetry to Mr. Landon written by Miss Clara Sunderland.

The new hymnals purchased recently by the church were dedicated and used for the first time Sunday morning. The pastor, Rev. Carl C. Moman, chose for his sermon theme "Life Eternal" and the closing hymn was "God Be With You."

VOTE FOR
G. WILLIAM HORSLEY
Your Republican Candidate For STATE REPRESENTATIVE

Don't be misled by either of the Democratic candidates (Rossiter and Lucas) who say that Horsley does not need your vote and will be elected anyhow. This is a well-calculated plan to get you to vote for one of them, and thus insure the election of two Democrats from this district.

HIS RECORD IS GOOD

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois says:
"No member of the House Appropriations Committee did a better job for the taxpayers and spent more time and hard work than Horsley did on sub-committee investigations of major importance to the taxpayers. His outstanding work in this field has earned the appreciation of the taxpayers."

Endorsed by: Labor, the Illinois Agricultural Association and many other organizations interested in the public welfare.

IT PAYS TO ADVERTISE

FUNNY BUSINESS

By Hershberger

"Some car, Dad! You were doing 70!"

CARNIVAL

By Dick Turne

"Run down and kiss your father goodnight—it's payday!"

THE STORY: Greg Seaver, 26, feels that there is something in life he is missing. He is working for his vigorous, dogmatic step-father, Horace Crain. Greg's future is secure, but he doesn't want security. Taking his pen in hand, Greg writes an advertisement offering himself as a young man "anxious to give up a job with a future for a job with a present."

III
THERE were five answers to Greg's advertisement.

The first two letters were offers to do house-to-house canvassing on a commission basis. The third was a request for his apartment if he decided to move. The fourth was from a woman who thought his advertisement revealed a restless soul. She seemed hopeful that together they might do something about that.

The fifth letter was written on heavy stationery with the name Wade Daggett engraved at the top and an address in the Waldorf Towers. "Come to see me Friday evening at 9," it read. Greg was about to toss this after the others when he reflected that he had nothing to do on Friday so what could he lose?

When he walked up Park Avenue on Friday evening, after stopping at the oyster bar at Grand Central Station for dinner, the Lever Building gleamed like a tower of green glass. As always it seemed to Greg to balance precariously on slender glass legs. Unending lines of traffic were speared out of the mouth of the tunnel at 45th Street. Taxis loaded and unloaded in front of the big hotels whose doormen waved their arms and pocketed tips. New York looked incredibly prosperous and assured.

While he waited in the lobby of the Waldorf Towers to be announced to Mr. Daggett's apartment—"the man about the advertisement"—he wondered why he was doing this. Perhaps Daggett was a practical joker. Instead, he was told, "Mr Daggett is expecting you."

The door was opened by a middle-aged woman in the uniform of a trained nurse. "You the young man?" Her voice was as startled as her cap. "You may go in," she said, and when he had passed her she closed the door behind him.

The room was pleasant, with a deep rug and somber draperies drawn across the windows, a davenport and comfortable chairs. There were flowers in vases on tables and on the mantelpiece above the empty grate. An armchair was drawn up near the fireplace and the man who sat in it put down a highball glass and watched Greg come toward him. Every light in the room had been turned on so that his face was brilliantly illuminated. Greg's instinct was to look away but he reached Daggett without a break in his pace, his eyes steady.

Wade Daggett was paralyzed, his face twisted as though a giant hand had pressed against his left cheek, moving his features to the right. He watched Greg with an expression that was partly dread, partly defiance. He spoke and his voice was deep and resonant, revealing an unexpected and ardent energy burning behind the dead face.

"Sit down. Make yourself comfortable," he reached for his highball. "Oh, fix yourself a drink. You'll find the stuff over there," and he indicated a well-stocked bar in a corner.

Greg tipped some Scotch into a glass, added ice cubes and water, taking his time so that he could regain his equilibrium before he had to look again at the man with the twisted face. Someone else might write a blind ad and walk into an adventure. It took him to land in the Grand Guignol.

He brought his glass back and sat down opposite his host. He was able to notice other things now. Wade Daggett was in his late sixties and overweight. He sat with his plump left hand folded over the smaller, thinner right one. Greg steered himself to look up impassively and meet the old man's eyes. They watched him warily, alert for the first sign of flinching or distaste.

"What's your name, young man?"

"Gregory Seaver, sir."

"Friends call you Greg?"

"Yes, sir."

"The older man seemed uncertain how to conduct the interview."

To avoid making the old man uncomfortable by looking at his face, he glanced casually around the room but its impersonality defeated his attempt to learn anything about Daggett beyond the fact that he must be a man of means.

"What's this job you are so anxious to get out of?"

Greg told him and the old man's lips puckered and straightened out again while he listened. At his first appalled glance Greg had thought that he would never be able to look at the blasted face without wincing and yet he was already more interested in the man than in the deformity.

"It's not really a bad job as jobs go," he concluded. "And they have a pension system."

"That's security," Daggett pointed out.

"I know it is," Greg's conscience snuffed indignantly. He ignored it. "Somehow the idea of struggling along just so you can be put out to pasture—"

"You want to do your grazing now is that it?"

But that was not it either. Greg did not want things easy. He just wanted to get somewhere. The trouble was that he did not know where he wanted to get. As it was, he felt like a donkey on a treadmill with a wisp of hay in front of him. He kept plodding but he never caught up with the hay. But because he did not know how to explain all that he remained silent.
